Please note the following correction to Quarterly #1, 2007: Michael James Gorball (20867) and Kerry Ann Danburg were married in North Carolina and not San Bernadino County, CA.

Please note the JFA Crest products shown on the front cover of this quarterly. They are available at www.zazzle.com and the JFA receives a commission on every purchase. Perfect gifts just in time for the holidays

From the Editor's Desk

The Rowley Historical Society Board of Directors sent a note thanking the Jewett Family of America for the $200.00 grant money and subscription to the JFA Quarterly.

It is not too early to think about the Christmas edition of the Quarterly. And once again, it would be wonderful if the members would share their family news. I will print as many pictures as I can.

Thank you to Director, Jessie Jewett Elliott, Historian, Lee Jewett Petry, Wayne Schafer and Linda White Jewett for their contributions to the success of the Quarterly.

Linda

Contemplations of your President

Here it is August 22nd and it seems like summer is over. In New England, it is getting dark by 8:00 PM and the last week has been unseasonably cool in the 70's (I'm not complaining, mind you). Most of us need to plan for fall chores and the upcoming winter. Those in warmer climes escape this, but they have their share of seasonal inclement weather as well (like hurricanes). I am sure many of you are also getting children and grandchildren ready for school – fortunately Claire and I don't have to deal with that at this stage in our lives.

I just tried an experiment, I searched for "Jewett" on eBay which resulted in a most eclectic mix including a Jewett Blood Plasma Freezer, a brass "O" scale Jewett railroad coach, a Jewett typewriter, a Jewett Back Brace Spinal Hyperextension Orthosis, an antique Jewett stove, and last but not least, a Jewett Beer & Ale clock (actually a modern reproduction).

Similar results can be found using Google or one of the other search engines. I omitted some of the standard items such as books by Sarah Orne Jewett that you would expect to find, but was still amazed by what I discovered. I think there are two lessons in this: the Internet is a vast and interesting resource for information (both good and bad) and the Jewett name has been (and continues to be) attached to a very diverse set of products and services.

The Internet has many other good uses as well. If you haven't checked out our website www.jewett.org you are missing out on a good information tool. The site is hosted by JFA member Rodney Jewett and contains many of the past Quarterly Publications as well as a few yearbooks and other items which can be viewed / printed / downloaded for your use. There is also another section on an Edward Jowett DNA project which examines the yDNA which is carried by the Jewett males only (sorry females). What they can tell right now, is that Edward's paternal yDNA deep ancestry was most likely Celtic, possibly Norman or Saxon, and not Viking. His Celtic forefathers probably migrated from the Iberian Peninsula sometime after the last ice age.

There is an article in this quarterly about www.zazzle.com. I have uploaded a couple of products (stamps & note paper) with the JFA family crest which can be ordered by anyone. Best of all, whenever one of these items is purchased, the JFA gets a small percentage of the sale. I have since added a coffee mug and tote bag with the JFA crest which also can be ordered from the Zazzle web site. Pricing is reasonable and shipment is made promptly.

Dear Mr. Loranz:

I am once again writing to convey our organization's deep appreciation for the 2006 donation received from the Jewett Family of America, Inc (JFA). Your organization's $200 grant will be used specifically to develop a display at the Foundation's new Grandview History Center which will feature the Lt. Charles Jewett Jr. family. A variety of items associated with the family will be viewable by the public, including the sword, belt and scabbard used by Lt. Jewett as an officer in the 54th Massachusetts Volunteers during the Civil War.

If you or other members of the JFA would like to view photographs of the future History Center, or learn generally about the Foundation's activities, please visit our web site at grandviewheritage.org.

Again, the Grandview Heritage Foundation continues to be very grateful to the for JFA for its ongoing support of our organization and its mission.

Sincerely,

B. B. Blevins

Dear Mr. Loranz and Members of the Jewett Family of America:

Thank you for your recent gift of $200.00, received on July 28, 2007, which we have designated to the Oberlin Heritage Center's Annual Fund. We appreciate your support as a partner in our mission to preserve and share Oberlin's unique heritage.

Partnerships are well-recognized for bringing about greater results than any one individual can do on his or her own. The Oberlin Heritage Center absolutely couldn't do what we do without the support of our extended community of supporters. Last year, nearly 200 donors contributed to the Annual Fund, working together to provide the critical difference necessary to our general operating budget. We are very proud of all that we accomplish together through the generosity of friends like you.

As an expression of our gratitude for your ever-so-generous support, we are renewing your Oberlin Heritage Center membership for the coming year with our compliments. We wish to include you among our organizational members in our 2007 Annual Report; do let us know if for any reason you prefer not to be listed.

Please know how much we appreciate your warm friendship with our organization. Frank Fanning (1844-1926) and Sarah Frances Gulick (1854-1937) Jewett, who lived in the house at 73 South Professor Street now operated as one of the Heritage Center's historic house museums, would be pleased by our ongoing partnership. We invite you and your members to visit the Oberlin Heritage Center should your travels bring you this way. We would enjoy sharing with you wonderful stories of Frank and Fannie's life in Oberlin.

Sincerely,

Pat Murphy

We are very, very pleased to enjoy support from the Jewett Family of America and invite all of you to visit when your travels bring you to Oberlin!

The Oberlin Heritage Center is a non-profit 501 (c)(3) charitable organization, and gifts such as yours are tax-deductible, since no goods or services are provided in exchange for your contribution.

Robert Howard Jewett, 92, known to sailing friends as Captain Bob, died June 15, 2007 at Stony Brook Hospital from complications due to an automobile accident. Born in Brooklyn on September 23, 1914, he grew up in Hollis, Queens with three brothers. His family summered in East Hampton and Huntington, and in 1954 Bob built his own summer cottage. This was later to become his permanent home. Bob always believed that the two things that kept him going strong were sailing and singing. He owned sailboats and had been part of a church choir since he was a youngster. Those that knew him well also believed that the enormous pleasure he derived from his friendships, particularly those of the female gender, contributed to his longevity. His love of sailing was a focal point in his life beginning with his first boat, a sailing canoe. In later years he could often be seen sailing on Gardiner's Bay in his 24 foot sloop, Moon Girl. He was a sailing mentor to friends and neighbors. Moon Girl had just been readied for this summer's season at the time of his death. He became an active member of St. Luke's Church in East Hampton where he was a lay reader and sang in the choir, sometimes as a soloist. In 1939 he married Elizabeth Underhill of Pasadena, CA. They moved to Albertson, Long Island where they raised three daughters. He spent his career with American Airlines, beginning in 1939, the day LaGuardia Field opened in New York. They moved to East Hampton, where Betty died in 2001. Bob is survived by daughters, Barbara Harris of Northport, NY, Susan Jewett of Falls Church, VA and East Hampton, NY and Cindy Corkery of Richland Hills, TX. Four grand children and two great grandchildren also survive. Bob donated his body to Stony Brook Medical School. A memorial service was held July 14, 2007. Contributions may be made to Springs Improvement Society for the Ashwagh Hall Building Fund, PO Box 537, East Hampton, NY 11937.

Esther L. (Peakes) Jewett, 102, passed away Thursday, February 8, 2007 at Penacook Place, Haverhill, MA. Esther was born in Medford on October 31, 1904 to Henry and Gertrude Peakes. She was preceded in death by her husband, Percy L. Jewett (9569), who died in 1969, and by stepsons Joseph and Lawrence Jewett. She is survived by daughters Constance Gibbs of Destin, FL and Barbara Cleary, Jr. of Haverhill, MA. Ten grandchildren and step-grandchildren, 19 great grandchildren, 17 great-great-grandchildren, nieces and nephews also survive. Mrs. Jewett was the oldest member of the Universalist Unitarian Church and its Ladies Circle, the Jewett Family of American and a 65 year member and past president of the Haverhill Woman's Club, Inc. She had been active at the Citizens Center for many years. Mrs. Jewett was a night nurse at the former Griffin-White Home. She enjoyed all of the activities and the great care that was provided to her in her final years by the kind and caring staff at Penacook Place. A memorial service was held March 24 at the Universalist Unitarian Church.

Query

Wanted information regarding Asa Edward Jewett. He was listed as 48 years of age in the New Hampshite 1860 census. The only other information I have is as follows: Harriet Hammond was born in 1810. She had a child in 1835 named Samuel James. Harriet married Asa Edward Jewett March 4, 1844 in Nashville or Nashua, NH. They had three sons: (1) Charles Jewett, born 1845 in Nashua, (2) William H. Jewett, born 1847 in Nashua. He died 16 June 1873 in Hudson, NH> He did not marry. (3) Samuel L. Jewett was born January 4, 1849 in Nashua. He married Evangaline Hattie Campbell, November 15, 1884.. They had a son, Albert born August 31, 1885 in Manchester, NH. Evangaline was the daughter of John D. And Eliza J. Lenox Campbell. She died May 6, 1906. and is buried in Pine Grove Cemertery near Manchester. Asa and Harriet appear in the 1850 and 1860 census, but not in the 1870. The two younger sons lived in another household in 1870. I would like to learn more about Harriet and Asa, when and where they died and the names of his parents.

Ai Harry Jewett (7594) was known as the 'father' of the White Salmon, for he more or less made it a popular place for vacationers. A.H. Jewett was born November 4, 1870 in McHenry County, Illinois, the son of Christopher Jewett and Arabella Kent Jewett. Harry attended grade school in Illinois and high school in Kenosha, Wisconsin. He was the first to enlist in the Civil War. After returning from the War, Harry, with his mother, and brother, moved to Sparta, Wisconsin. He established a nursery there.

On March, 13, 1870, Harry Jewett married Miss Jennie Waters, a native of Wisconsin. She was born on January 16, 1847; the first girl born in Vernon County after Wisconsin became a state. Her birthplace was more than 50 miles from the nearest neighbor. Jennie was a highly accomplished lady and a school teacher at the time of their marriage. They remained in the nursery business until the spring of 1874 when they came by way of California to Oregon. They intended to locate in the Willamette Valley and engage in the nursery business.

Upon their arrival in Portland, they were advised for health reasons to go east of the mountains and so it was that they started their trip up the river. They rode on the mail boat "Teaser" up to the Cascades and then had to portage to the next boat for the rest of the trip. On the boat they met the Joslyns who lived in White Salmon for 21 years. The Joslyns invited the Jewetts to spend the night at their home on the low flatlands. When they arrived the Palmer and Warner families both had homes on the flatlands.

The Jewetts were among the first settlers to recognize the richness and beauty of the uplands along the Columbia River. They chose to make their home there about two miles north of the Columbia River, but two years later they settled on the bluff and remained there. They located on the hillside facing the road now called Dock Grade.

After spending much time and energy, their residence became one of the most beautiful along the Columbia. Harry was an expert horticulturalist and made a success as an orchardist, berry grower and nurseyman. It was on the Jewett Ranch that the first strawberries were grown in the mid-Columbia region. The berries were sent to Portland and brought fancy prices. All the trading in those days was done at The Dalles but a little later on, E.L. Smith of Hood River established a store three miles from the Hood River. Mrs. Jewett often rowed across the Columbia to the Oregon side, walking the three miles to the store and came back with her supplies in baskets. Mrs. Jewett also rode horseback and carried the mail in the early days to Camas Prairie which was about 30 miles.

By 1904, Jewett owned 375 acres with the one hundred acres under cultivation and 10 acres in grapes. Part of the 375 acres which Jewett owned is now the present town site of White Salmon. Harry had cabins which attracted many vacationers from Portland. These people would come and stay for a week or two. Later he built a large hotel where he kept summer guests for many years. He transformed Jewett Farm into a show-place. Guests would come by stern-wheelers to admire the park-like landscaping, splendid means and views.

The parents of Jennie Jewett were Charles and Mary Spencer Waters. Her father came to the west to live with the Jewetts after the death of Jennie's mother.

They rode on the mail boat "Teaser" up to the Cascades and then had to portage to the next boat for the rest of the trip. On the boat they met the Joslyns who lived in White Salmon for 21 years. The Joslyns invited the Jewetts to spend the night at their home on the low flatlands. When they arrived the Palmer and Warner families both had homes on the flatlands.

The Jewetts were among the first settlers to recognize the richness and beauty of the uplands along the Columbia River. They chose to make their home there about two miles north of the Columbia River, but two years later they settled on the bluff and remained there. They located on the hillside facing the road now called Dock Grade.

After spending much time and energy, their residence became one of the most beautiful along the Columbia. Harry was an expert horticulturalist and made a success as an orchardist, berry grower and nurseyman. It was on the Jewett Ranch that the first strawberries were grown in the mid-Columbia region. The berries were sent to Portland and brought fancy prices. All the trading in those days was done at The Dalles but a little later on, E.L. Smith of Hood River established a store three miles from the Hood River. Mrs. Jewett often rowed across the Columbia to the Oregon side, walking the three miles to the store and came back with her supplies in baskets. Mrs. Jewett also rode horseback and carried the mail in the early days to Camas Prairie which was about 30 miles.

By 1904, Jewett owned 375 acres with the one hundred acres under cultivation and 10 acres in grapes. Part of the 375 acres which Jewett owned is now the present town site of White Salmon. Harry had cabins which attracted many vacationers from Portland. These people would come and stay for a week or two. Later he built a large hotel where he kept summer guests for many years. He transformed Jewett Farm into a show-place. Guests would come by stern-wheelers to admire the park-like landscaping, splendid means and views.

The parents of Jennie Jewett were Charles and Mary Spencer Waters. Her father came to the west to live with the Jewetts after the death of Jennie's mother.
