President Clifford L. Jewett

Our New President

Mr. Jewett received a bachelor degree in chemical engineering at the University of Minnesota in 1931. He joined the 3M Company in 1932 as a research chemist in the Mineral Department, assigned to the problem of developing methods for coloring mineral granules for use in surfacing asphalt roofing. He later became technical director of the Roofing Granules Division.

From 1945 until 1951 he was associated with 3M's New Products Division, where he coordinated the early work on the firm's presensitized lithographic plates, introduced to the trade in 1950. From 1951 to 1955 he served as technical director of the newly organized Printing Products Division, and from 1955 to 1960 served as general manufacturing manager in charge of both the laboratory and production organizations.

In 1960 Mr. Jewett organized the Photographic Film Laboratory as Manager of Photographic Products, and in 1964 he returned to the New Products Commercial Development Division as Manager of Project Development.

In 1966 Mr. Jewett was named Manager of the Building Products Project responsible for developing and marketing new products for the building industry. He is presently serving as Technical Director of the Industrial Mineral Products Division.

Mr. Jewett is a member of the research committee of the Asphalt Roofing Manufacturer's Association and a life member of the Executive Committee of the Research and Engineering Council of the Graphic Arts, Industry, Inc. having served as its president in 1960. He also served as a member of the research committee of the Lithographic Technical Foundation. In 1963 he received the 3M Company Carlton Society Award for his early work on roofing granules. He holds several patents in the fields of roofing granules and presensitized lithographic plates.

Note From The President To The Members Of The Jewett Family Of America

Dear Kinsman:

This is my first opportunity to bring you greetings from the Board of Directors of the Jewett Family of America.

Our retiring president, Everett Douglas Jewett, agreed to serve until the reunion celebrating the 60th Anniversary of the founding of the organization. This was held in Rowley, Massachusetts on Saturday, August 22, 1970. Members present expressed their genuine appreciation of the work done by Mr. Jewett and his wife, Edna. Together, they have carried a large share of the responsibility for the success and growth of the family organization for many years. Without them, it is doubtful whether it would have survived. Fortunately, both Mr. and Mrs. Jewett are still with us and will support our efforts in every way they can.

At the Board Meeting, Mr. George Harold Pfau of Tucson, Arizona was elected an Honorary Director, and Everett Douglas Jewett and E. Tilson Peabody were elected "Directors For Life". Both attended the reunion in 1910 at which time the corporation was founded. They have been active ever since.

As you know, the Jewett Family Annual is the primary means of communication with our members. We urge you to continue to contribute family history and lore so as to make this publication as interesting and useful as possible. Genealogical lines and articles of special interest to Jewetts are always welcome. Historical pictures are especially interesting.

Further, we encourage you to help expand the membership rolls which gives added support to the publication of the annual. Annual memberships are $3.00 and life memberships are $30.00. Applications should be sent to Willard Jewett, Treasurer, 86 Bennett Hill Road, Rowley, Massachusetts. A membership application form is included in this issue of the annual.

Finally, we would like to encourage correspondence or other communication between members. This is not intended to increase the work load of our corresponding secretary, Edna Jewett, but only to suggest that active participation in any organization greatly increases the fun of belonging. Such communication also develops greater interest in those contacted.

Tojours Le Meme,
Clifford L. Jewett
President
Jewett Family of America, Inc.

Reunion

The Sixtieth Anniversary Reunion of The Jewett Family of America, Inc. was held in the First Congregational Church of Rowley on Saturday, August 22, 1970, with over one hundred members and friends attending.

Among the States represented were; Wisconsin, Michigan, Texas, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey, New York, New Hampshire, Minnesota, Missouri, Vermont, Pennsylvania, the District of Columbia and the Province of Ontario, Canada.

Miss Lucy Ardell Kimball, of Ipswich, Massachusetts, a member in her 96th year although unable to attend sent a poem which she wrote in 1957 to be read as her contribution. (You will find this poem printed elsewhere in this issue of the Yearbook).

Registration was at 10:00 A.M. Mrs. Dorothy (Jewett) Brigham and Leonard Peabody performed this task with great dispatch. Many thanks to them for a job well done.

Mrs. Sarah F. Peabody opened the morning session with an organ recital from 10:30 A.M. to 11:00 A.M. Mrs. Peabody has played for all Rowley Reunions of the "family" since 1938. Included in her repertoire were: Plein Chant and Benedictus — Couperin, Prelude — Clerambault, Hymn Tune: St. Catherine — McKinley, Improvisation on Gregorian Theme — Titcomb, Andante from Symphony IV — Widor and Praelusium-C Minor — Bach.

At 11:00 A.M. Invocation and prayer were given by Rev. W. Irving Monroe, Jr., Pastor of the First Congregational Church of Rowley.

Everett D. Jewett, President, now presiding over the assembly led those present in the reading of Our Family Pledge.

Greetings from the Town of Rowley were extended by Edward F. MacDonald, Town Clerk, and our President responded with the following, "We are indeed grateful to Mr. MacDonald for donating a portion of his time in bringing to us the greetings of the officials and citizens of Rowley. Not only do we appreciate their interest in the Jewett Family of America, but we are also indebted to the members and leaders of the three churches; and to the Rowley Historical Society for their kindnesses and willingness to assist us whenever we have called upon them."

In his remarks, our President also said, "I recall the reunion held here in 1910, the year of our incorporation, with meetings held in both this and the Baptist meetinghouses and with a catered dinner served in the Town Hall. I also remember the extreme heat of that July day. Few remain who were at the 1910 reunion. I notice a number in the audience. Few remain who became members of this association at it's incorporation. I believe that possibly I am the only person present who has held continuous membership for the past sixty years."

The Jewett's Patriotic Song was sung by the assembly.

Dr. Clifford K. Shipton, recently retired achivist at Harvard University, noted author and historian delivered the main address. The subject of his address was "Jedediah Jewett and his Generation". (excerpts from his address can be found elsewhere in this issue of the Yearbook — Dr. Shipton kindly consented to this). The Benediction was given by Rev. John Gallagher, Pastor of St. Mary's R. C. Church of Rowley. At 12:00 noon a group picture was taken, in front of the church, with all Family members present participating.

At 12:30 P.M. we met again in the dining hall for opening of the afternoon session. Recognition of members and guests was conducted by Willard Jewett, Reunion Committee Chairman. Invited guests included Rev. Mr. & Mrs. W. Irving Monroe, Jr., Rev. John Gallagher, Dr. & Mrs. Clifford K. Shipton, Mr. & Mrs. Edward MacDonald, Mrs. John D. Perley, President of the Rowley Historical Society, and Mr. & Mrs. Curtis F. Haley.

Invocation was given by Rev. Monroe and dinner was served by the Ladies of The Florence Jewett Society of the First Congregational Church of Rowley. (We are indeed grateful to these ladies for the fine dinner and cooperation which they have always shown our group).

At 2:30 P.M. a short business meeting was held for the election of Officers and Directors for the ensuing year, President Everett D. Jewett, presiding. The Secretary's and the Treasurer's reports were read by Willard Jewett and accepted; the Auditor's report was read by Porter J. Perkins and accepted; and the Corresponding Secretary's report was read by Edna P. Jewett and accepted. A vote of appreciation was expressed to the officers and directors for their loyal service to the Family, and it was voted to send a letter of appreciation to Mrs. Sarah F. Peabody. Announcement was made that the Rowley Historical Society house would be opened up that afternoon to the members of the Jewett Family of America, Inc. who might wish to visit same. (Many members did later avail themselves of this offer). The report of the nominating committee was read by Roger Jewett, Chairman, and an additional nomination from the floor of Dorothy Jewett Stitt was made. Directed that the Clerk cast one vote for these officers and directors. So voted. (A listing of the new officers and directors will be found elsewhere in this yearbook). Our new President, Clifford L. Jewett of Minneapolis, Minnesota was presented to the members present and following his acceptance remarks he presented an Honorary Life Member Certificate to Roger Jewett, and the meeting was adjourned.

At 3:15 P.M. Curtis F. Haley of Rowley gave a talk, accompanied with his slides, entitled "Olde Rowley and Environs". Mr. Haley does a fine job with this program and makes it most interesting and amusing. (This was most enthusiastically received by those present).

4:00 P.M. The 60th Anniversary Reunion is over. May I express my thanks to my committee; Everett D. Jewett, Edna P. Jewett, Dorothy Brigham, Leonard Peabody, Albert W. Haley, Porter J. Perkins and to all others who helped me to make this get-together a real success.

KATHERINE (GARLAND) JEWETT

Near the shore of bonny England
Lies the little "Isle of Wight";
Where the lovely Katherine Garland's
Baby eyes first saw the light.

With chalk like the "Cliffs of Dover"
The sweet child learned to write:
Never dreaming of a future
In a land far far from sight.

Where she'd teach her nine small children
With chalk from her "Isle of Wight,"
Near the little town of Rowley, Mass., —
Oft, perhaps, by candle-light.

With her husband, Nehemiah,
Happy years passed swiftly by;
In their home six darling daughters
Kept their hearts with joy high.

It was May-time in New England;
Winter's cold had fled away;
Thoughts of coming hours of summer
Filled their minds from day to day.

Then some cruel type of illness
Claimed five daughters; one by one:
Next, her namesake (who had married)
Died, and she had none.

Only God knows how she bore it;
How her hungry breaking heart
Called on Him to tell her, someday,
Why from her they had to part.

Did the hearts of friends and neighbors
Ache for her? Mine does today.
Did my Jewetts, Todds and Bradstreets
Try to sooth her pain away?

Little dreamed she that a "grand-child,"
Generations later on,
Would seem to share her stinging sorrow
Long years after she had gone.

Now, each year, in late September
When I sit before the fire
In old Rowley's "House of History",
It is my sincere desire.

To picture in the quaint old kitchen,
Katherine and Nehemiah
Visiting their friends of those days
By just such a cheery fire.

Written on October 11, 1957 by their 1great-2great-3great-4great grand daughter — (Miss) Lucy Ardell Kimball of Ipswich, Mass.

Highlights Of Address By Dr. Clifford K. Shipton At 60th Anniversary Reunion

AUGUST 22, 1970

Jedidiah Jewett, the sixth minister of Rowley, was born and baptized in that town on June 3, 1705, a son of Jonathan and Mary (Wicom) Jewett who lived on what is now Bradford Street. Jonathan was a farmer and tanner of moderate means, but Jedidiah was early marked for his piety and scholastic ability.

Jedidiah was apparently teaching in Rowley, for in 1728 he turned down an offer to keep the town school for £50 that year. Probably he was reading theology with his pastor, Edward Payson, for he was ordained as the old gentleman's colleague on November 19, 1729. The sermon on this occasion was preached by Moses Hale (A.B. 1699) of Byfield Parish. On November 11, 1730, Jewett was married to one of Mr. Hale's parishioners, Elizabeth, the only child of Richard and Dorothy (Light) Dummer.

After the death of Edward Payson in 1732, Jewett set himself to maintain against the tendencies of his century the religious fervor of the early days. He did succeed in maintaining the number of church memberships, but in spite of his public efforts, fornication and like sins became as common in Rowley as in similar towns. In 1741 and 1742 his church enjoyed a revival, and the next year he went down to the provincial convention of the clergy to sign without reservations its testimonial in favor of the Great Awakening.

While most of his Harvard contemporaries frowned upon uneducated preachers and tried to exalt the clergy, Jewett always insisted that it was the substance of a man and not his title or degrees which counted.

Of course he welcomed the great English revivalist, George Whitefield, and beamed while that famous man preached two sermons from the Rowley pulpit. He was an ardent admirer of Jonathan Edwards, for whose life of Brainard he subscribed, and whose sermons are reflected in his own. The Edwardian teachings were stronger meat than Edward Payson had fed to his congregation, and some of the members of it took exception.

Jewett was too busy with these wars of the mind to pay much attention to the French and Indians, but in August, 1754, he barely escaped fame on the occasion of a visit to Contoocook, for the very day that he left that settlement his host was carried away by the Indians. In 1757 he was on the alarm list, but there is no record that he was ever called out. His wife died suddenly on April 14, 1764. She had supported him through the years, buried three children, seen her surviving daughter married, and her surviving son, Dummer, graduated at Harvard in 1752. Her successor to whom Jewett was married on October 29, 1765, was Elizabeth, daughter of Daniel Greenleaf (A.B. 1699) and widow successively of David Bacon, Joseph Scott, and Joseph Parsons (A.B. 1720).

In his last years Jewett was even more active intellectually and physically than in his youth. He subscribed for the 1772 edition of the Vindication of John Wise and appears to have given active support to the liberal William Emerson (A.B. 1761) of Concord. On April 18, 1774, he preached at the ordination of David Toppan (A.B. 1771) at Newburyport and returned "home sick to his Bed, which proved a dying Bed to him." He left the scene of his labors on May 8, followed by long eulogies. The parish voted to pay for his funeral and monument, and, instead of sighing with relief and calling a liberal young Harvard man who would preach less hell and more love, they ordained a Princeton man, Ebenezer Bradford. Jewett had indeed sold his people the Edwardian point of view.

Like so many of these theologically ferocious people, Jewett was personally a kind man, as he showed by leaving instructions that two slaves, Hannah and James, whom he had inherited from the Dummers, should be freed when they reached the age of twenty-five, and that they should be supported from his estate if need be. The best testimonial of his kindness comes from that bitter Tory Episcopalian, Jacob Bailey (A.B. 1755), who had very few good words for Congregationalists, but paused in his usual denunciations to give this account of the notice which Parson Jewett had taken of one of his youthful literary efforts:

> The Parson of our Parish, who was a pious and ingenious gentleman . . . was so taken with the performance, that he resolved to pay the author a visit. By some means or other, I gained intelligence of his design, and took care to avoid his conversation . . . I esteemed our minister, in that day, such a great man, that thousands would not have tempted me to come into his presence. Being arrived at my father's, I understood that he had paid the family a visit, and had prevailed upon my father to let him have the instructing me a twelve month, and that without any consideration. Such was his unparalleled generosity.

Deborah Balch Smith, daughter of Donald W. and Nathalie Jewett Smith was married to Robert William Schmidt, December 19, 1970, at Rochester, New York.

Wedding Anniversaries

A delightful letter came from the Elaine Browns of Forest Grove, Oregon, telling of a celebration in June, 1970, with most of the family there. Just too many to name here, but they certainly are a "good group".

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd F. Arnett of Forestville, California, celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary at Kalmath while spending the summer among the Redwoods. There were sixty-five guests at a dinner reception in the Church of the Redwoods, United Methodist. Mrs. Arnett is #11215 in the Genealogy.

Mrs. Arnett writes that John Egbert Jewett and his wife, Eva Canfield Jewett, were given a reception March 28, 1967, which was their 62nd anniversary and also Mr. Jewett's 94th birthday. In 1968 they were entertained at Mrs. Arnett's home.

A reception was held for Mr. and Mrs. Porter J. Perkins of Wenham, Massachusetts, celebrating their Golden Wedding Anniversary in January, 1971. Friends and relatives attending presented the couple with gifts, including a colored television set. Mr. Perkins is a descendant of Moses Jewett, #2996, who was born October 23, 1802, and was lost on the way home from the California Gold Strike.

Mr. and Mrs. Worrall D. Prescott of New Rochelle, New York, express great pride in their daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Eileen (Prescott) Totton, who is a student at Southern Connecticut State College — as well as taking care of her home and children — high grades, too.

We received a picture of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Stanton in Puerto Rico. Mr. Stanton is a descendant of the Quebec Jewetts.

Mrs. Nellie M. (Jewett) Wallace will soon be celebrating her 91st birthday. She is of Lunenburg, Massachusetts, where she has given up the task of Curator for the local Historical Society, although still taking part in their activities.

A clipping from a friend in Washington, D.C., of a Maine paper reports Mr. and Mrs. Alvin E. Jewett sighting two American bald eagles about the size of turkeys. This is the first time in 20 years that they have seen eagles.

Our new member, Douglas Edward Thompson, is but a babe now living with his parents, Lt. Dennis and Carol (Jewett)) Thompson in Acala, Spain, and present plans are to return to the U.S.A. in February, 1972.

Mr. Soloman Wright Jewett Moncure is really not a new member — just a recently discovered one — as he was made a Life Member about 1918 when George Anson Jewett was President.

Airman David T. Jewett of Beverly, Massachusetts, was assigned to Keesler AFB, Mississippi, for training in the communications field.

Reva Jewett King reports that her son is Durant, Mississippi, City Attorney and Holmes County Public Schools Attorney.

Mrs. Mildred D. Nichols of Sacramento, California, is now retired. She writes a most delightful letter.

We are sorry that both Mr. and Mrs. Worrall D. Prescott have been ill. We sincerely hope for their speedy recovery.

Clinton Selectman Chairman, Alan D. Jewett, was the speaker at the Clinton, Massachusetts, Memorial Day Exercises.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Totten of Woodbridge, Connecticut, announce the engagement of their daughter, Toni Totten, to Stephen P. Sullivan, son of Dr. and Mrs. William Sullivan of Bronxville, New York. A June wedding is planned.

Mrs. Ruth W. Andrews of Middleboro, Massachusetts, has been very busy lately gathering 12 new members for The Family.

We are sorry to hear that Harry Jewett, Sr., is now in a nursing home. He has been a member since 1957. Harry's sister, Jennie Fuller of Florida, lost her husband in December, 1969. Harry's brother, Clyde, now lives with his daughter, Mrs. Antonio Maria (Jewett) Trueba, in Miami, Florida. Clyde's son, Clyde A. Jewett, Jr., who is now stationed at Homestead Air Base, Florida, received the Bronze Star while serving in Viet Nam. Three of these sons have served in Viet Nam, two in the Marine Corp and Clyde in the Army.

Our ex-President, Roger Jewett, reports that his daughter and family, including the six-month old grandson are now living in Peabody, Massachusetts, while her husband attends Salem State College for two years.

Mrs. Barbara Dorn's daughter, Jean, has moved to San Diego, California, where she works in a bank and attends college at night. Barbara has a graduation announcement of her great grandmother's (Harriet Jewett) dated 1820, and many photos of the family which we'd like to see.

Mr. Willard Jewett, our secretary and treasurer is working on a plan for a different type of membership card — nothing definite yet.

Effective September 1, 1970, Mr. Jack Gilbert, our Vice-President, from Erie, Pennsylvania, is serving as Secretary of the Lord Corporation as well as continuing his responsibilities as Corporate Attorney.

Mrs. Mabel Jewett Blair of Mesa, Arizona, says she does love the milder climate there, but she misses the fall colors of the mid-west.

The Mayflower Association, of Plymouth, Massachusetts, is in line for a great big thank-you from Mrs. Lindsay in the help that they gave her in the 1970 Yearbook.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Jewett of Ingersoll, Ontario, Canada, celebrated their 50th year in the automobile business. Mr. Jewett is now retired leaving management to his son, Robert William Jewett.

Following the wish of the Board of Directors, we are placing our valuable collection of genealogical papers in Essex Institute of Salem for safekeeping. Some have already been placed there; more are ready to go and in the not too distant future we hope to complete the transaction.

Mrs. Head, our member from Montebello, California, is still searching for Williamson relations in her family line. She was a Perkins and a descendant of Captain Joseph Jewett of North Lyme, Connecticut.

Miss Elizabeth E. Jewett, a Director, from Middlebury, Vermont, was severely injured in an automobile accident this winter. She is reported to be making satisfactory improvement for which we are most thankful.

We reordered the "Jewett" note paper, because of the popular demand — so we now have more to sell. The cost is $1.00 for twenty-five sheets.

Also we have "Jewett" bookplates for sale — the price on these is $2.00.

DESCENDANTS OF EBENEZER JEWETT II and NANCY MARIA JENNINGS JEWETT BY MARION (ROSEBROOKS) EMMONS

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of those who assisted in assembling this genealogy.

It represents years of research. "A Bird's Eye View of the Jewett Family" by the late Susan Jewett Howe Griggs and data compiled by the late Marian Arlene Pearl were of assistance in this work.

I apologize for any errors which exist. If there are some omissions, I am sorry, but to meet the deadline of the publisher, I was unable to wait any longer for material to arrive.

The last date recorded in this material is January 1971.

We thank the Jewett Family of America for the opportunity to include this material in their 1971 Yearbook.
