DEDICATION

By action of the Board of Directors of the Jewett Family of America, Inc., this 1974 Year Book is respectfully dedicated to Everett Douglas Jewett, our Director for Life, and to Edna P. Towne Jewett, his gracious wife and our Corresponding Secretary and Historian, who are the revered, respected and loved Elder Statesman and First Lady of the Jewett Family.

The vast Jewett Family has been enriched by the general interest, the continuing enthusiasm, the genealogical knowledge, the pleasant leadership, and the deep devotion to Family exhibited by these two fine people. The Family takes great pleasure in this dedication as a token of its appreciation.

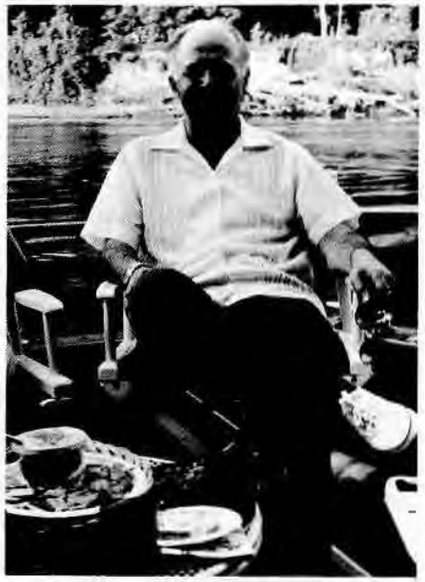
Greetings From The President To The Members Of The Jewett Family Of America

Dear Kinsmen:



Once a year, through the medium of the Jewett Family Year Book, we have an opportunity to exchange news and interesting historical facts about the Jewett family. We have a chance to take pride in the accomplishments of our members and to announce marriages, births and deaths as they are reported to us. To do this in an effective way, we need your contributions, for this is your Year Book, about your family. Your news items about reunions, promotions, travel and family achievements combine to form the running record of the history of the Jewetts in America. Pictures of current or historical interest add much to this publication and are appreciated. Contributions should be sent to the Editor, Mrs. Dorothy Jewett Stitt.

Your Board of Directors met in Gloucester, Mass. in August of this past year and outlined certain goals for the next few years. Steps will be taken to broaden the active participation of the members of the Board in order to develop new ways of serving the members. Tentative plans are being laid for a reunion in the Rowley area in 1976 during the country's bicentennial celebration. You could help expand the scope of this activity by giving a membership to your children and other relatives having a Jewett background.

The treasury of the Jewett Family is still solvent, but, because of increasing expenses, we would like to remind Life Members to send $1.00 each year to the Treasurer to help cover the costs of the Year Book. Only in this way can we maintain its present standards.

Toujours le Meme,

Clifford L. Jewett, President,
The Jewett Family of America.

Minutes of Directors' Meeting

August 25, 1973

The Easterly Inn, Gloucester, Mass.

The meeting was called to order at 10:00 AM, President Clifford L. Jewett presiding.

Thirteen members were present and voting; namely, Clifford L. Jewett, John J. Gilbert, Willard Jewett, Everett D. Jewett, Edna P. Jewett, Roger Jewett, Evelyn O. Burlingame, Dorothy J. Stitt, Albert W. Haley, Elizabeth E. Jewett, Stephen S. Jewett, Alan Jewett and Malburne J. Peabody.

Proxy votes were received from the following: Hugh S. Jewett, George F. Jewett, Jr., Porter J. Perkins and Herschel C. Jewett.

A welcome was extended to our new board members; Malburne J. Peabody and Alan Jewett.

Invocation was given by Roger Jewett.

The Secretary's report was accepted as presented.

The Treasurer's report was read and accepted.

The Auditor's report was given.

The Corresponding Secretary's report was given informing us of the various Jewett Family Reunions in the States, and sharing with us some of the letters received from our members. We do appreciate hearing from the members.

Under old business, the results of placing an ad in the DAR magazine was reported as favorable and it was voted to purchase a similar ad again (the cost of which was not to exceed $10.00).

The subject of the By-Laws revisions came up again in this meeting, and John J. Gilbert volunteered to work on them ("Jack" Gilbert is an attorney and has a good understanding of these matters). He will report back to the board at our next meeting.

Under New business, the first item was the yearbook. Much work and expense is required, but all board members feel that the Yearbook is probably the most important thing we do for it keeps us in touch with all members of the "Family". Rules for acceptance of articles (guidelines), cut-off dates and much more was discussed. It was finally agreed by all that our Editor, Dorothy Jewett Stitt, should have full and complete control of content matter used, etc. Dorothy is trained and skilled in her work and we appreciate her willingness to take on this formidable assignment. (Read the Editor's Note).

Albert W. Haley, who made the arrangements for this meeting, expressed his appreciation for the large number attending. (Many of our directors travel many miles at some expense to carry on the Family's business). It was thought that a membership committee might be beneficial, so President Clifford L. Jewett appointed John J. Gilbert Chairman of such a committee. Roger Jewett made the motion that the Family contribute twenty-five ($25.00) dollars annually to the Essex Institute, Research Library, Salem, Mass. (This is where the Jewett Records are now kept).

The same was voted. The Board requested the Secretary and the Corresponding Secretary to prepare a membership roster by states. Recognition was made of Family members deceased since our last meeting, and a moment of silence was observed in their memory. In view of the increased cost of publishing the yearbook and the higher costs in postage, printing, etc., the motion was made and seconded that the annual dues be raised to five ($5.00) dollars (including the yearbook subscription), and it was so voted. The formation of an Executive Board to function between annual meetings was discussed, and tabled until our next meeting.

Roger Jewett, Chairman of the Nominating Committee, read the report of his committee recommending the re-election of all present officers and directors for another year. There being no further nominations, it was so voted.

Roger Jewett spoke on the activities planned for the rest of the day; which were, a visit to Hammond Castle in the afternoon and a charter boat ride from Gloucester to Marblehead in the evening.

It was suggested that we meet next year around the middle of September, possibly on Saturday, the 14th, in Williamsburg, Va. Malburne J. Peabody will make the arrangements. (His home is in Virginia).

The next Family Reunion will be in the summer of 1976 to coincide with the Bi-Centennial activities in the nation. Roger Jewett was asked to co-ordinate same and form a committee to help him in his task.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 12:25 PM.

Respectfully submitted,
Willard Jewett, Secretary

Note—Gloucester celebrated its 350th anniversary on the weekend your Board of Directors met, so they also were able to see a 3-mile parade attended by 50,000 people, and featuring bands from all New England as well as one band from Gloucester, N. J.; and a 23-foot replica of a sea-serpent such as one that reportedly visited Gloucester in 1817. Hammond Castle was fascinating, the cruise down the shore delightful, and all the food delicious—especially that picnic supper prepared for the cruise by Evelyn, the lovely wife of Roger Jewett. All Board members and their families appreciate the hospitality of the local Cousins.

To look to the future—we are compiling a list of Jewetts in the Revolution. Would you please send your Ancestor's name and any facts about him? We do not want to overlook any Patriot.

Are you a member of the SAR or DAR? Join, for the sake of your descendants. With '76 in the offing, it would be a shame for you not to be counted and recorded. Almost every Jewett can easily prove his ancestry with the aid of the books entitled. "History and Genealogy of the Jewetts of America," by Frederic Clarke Jewett. These volumes are accepted by all genealogical societies. The DAR and SAR have much Jewett material. The Mormon genealogical repository at Salt Lake City has vast records. Our own family records are available at Essex Institute. The U. S. Government reports that genealogy is the No. 1 recreation in the country today.

Enjoy the completion of your records. Everybody has ancestors! Toujour le meme'—Dorothy Jewett Stitt (Mrs. James W. Stitt), Editor.

AUDITOR'S REPORT

The above accounts have been audited by me. I find that the receipts, bank balances and records agree with the above report.

PORTER J. PERKINS, Auditor

Everett Douglas And Edna Jewett

Cornerstones Of The Jewett Family

Everett Douglas Jewett is a charter member of the Jewett Family of America, Inc., although he was not yet ten years old when he joined.

As Everett said, "My Father, Deacon Amos Everett Jewett, joined me to the Family Association!" His Father was the newly elected Recording Secretary.

These events took place at the July 7, 1910 Family Reunion, the first Family Reunion in 55 years, and at this time the Incorporation was decided upon.

Notes of the 1910 Reunion refer to "the noble 86" who responded to the letter suggesting the Reunion. The Deacon was among these, and in the ensuing meeting at Rowley, he was elected Recording Secretary. In two years, at the Aug. 22, 1912 Reunion, Everett's Father was to be elected Secretary and Treasurer, an office he held for 36 years.

Everett Douglas Jewett of Rowley, Mass.
A Director for life.

From that day, the pattern of Everett's life was set, although he did not yet know it.

Everett said, in reminiscing at the 1972 Board of Directors' meeting, "My Father talked Jewett Family all the time. As he got older, he worried over the Family, and worried over who would take over the position of Secretary and Treasurer."

Until 1948, Everett resisted any temptation to take on a large Jewett Family responsibility. He was a busy, hard-working husband and father of seven children.

Then, in his words, "My 86-year-old Father talked and worried to me daily about the Family. Finally, one day in 1948, after some comments of his, I turned to him and asked, 'Do you want me to be Secretary-Treasurer?' "

Deacon Jewett's answer was a forceful, "Yes." Subsequently, the Board of Directors voted Everett Secretary-Treasurer.

Still, Everett was not actively engaged in Family business. He says, "My Father never turned over the books to me or anything. He only had me endorse checks, or sign certificates for new members.

"Finally, Father fell ill, and I took the Secretary's book home to work on. I never was able to return the book. Father died 10 days later."

And so Everett came into the job of co-ordinating all the aspects of the Jewett Family.

Deacon Jewett was steeped in Family lore, and remembered it so well. Everett said, "Papa—my Dad—kept everything in his head. But I began to gather things. I gathered everything up to 1962 that is in the Essex Institute today concerning the Jewetts."

Everett had a lot of living to do before he would take over his Father's job. Born Sep't 25, 1900, the son of Amos Everett and Ada Louisa (Forbes) Jewett, he grew up in Rowley, Mass. He married Edna P. Towne of Newburyport, Mass. on June 2, 1925. They were blessed with seven children: Everett Grenville, Alfred Douglas, Walter Amos, Dorothy Edna, Judith Louise, Edward, and Natalie Towne. They have 30 grandchildren—28 survive—and six great-grandchildren.

He farmed the family farm for many years. This is the same land the Jewetts settled in 1639. He worked for Boston-Edison until 1942; for the Ipswich Light Dep't 1943-1962. He took over his Father's book business in 1954, and he was the Agent, Essex County Soil Conservation Dep't. to 1969.

Everett has been President, Secretary-Treasurer, Director for Life, Historian, Year Book Editor of the Family; a Mason, a member of John T. Heard Lodge, AF and AM, Ipswich, Mass; and Deacon of the Byfield Parish Church.

When Everett became active in the Family, his lovely wife, Edna, took up the Family work with him. She has served faithfully and fully through the years, and remembers promising the Deacon that she would help with the Family affairs as long as she was able. She is still helping, serving as Corresponding Secretary over the years, and in a myriad of other ways. She is also Past Regent of Agawam Chapter, DAR, at Ipswich, Mass., and is in the Women's Guild and Choir of Byfield Parish Church.

Everett and his Father compare closely. Any who know Everett are aware of his complete dedication to, and knowledge of, the Jewett Family. Now please read the remarks of the 1912-1913 Year Book Committee concerning his Father, the Deacon:

"No Jewett has ever attended the reunions who has not made the acquaintance of Deacon Jewett. He is the man in charge at Rowley. The affairs of the Family are uppermost in his mind. He points out the site of historic family residences. He knows the boundaries of their farms, the location of the old wells. He is a walking encyclopedia of all that pertains to the Jewett Family; history, life, and traditions. As some one said at the last reunion, 'What would the Jewett Family do without the Deacon?' "

What would the Jewett Family do without Everett and Edna Jewett? They are always the same—Toujours le Meme'.

Births

Mrs. Leverett Jewett, author of the poem, "Ode to my Unborn Grandchild," which was printed in the 1973 Year Book on Page 27, sends word of the birth of the Grandchild—Shelley Manie Norton, born on Christmas Eve, Dec. 24, 1973, daughter of Edwin Ian and Claudia Maureen (Jewett) Norton of Burlington, Ontario.

Jewett Family President Clifford Jewett tells us of the birth of their sixth grandchild: Kimberly Ann Stursa was born May 29, 1973, in Minneapolis to their second daughter, Kathy, and her husband.

Eileen Katherine Jewett was born Nov. 19, 1973 to Robert Miles and Mariela (Ferrer) Jewett of Miami, Fla. She is the 24th grandchild of Mr. Clyde A. Jewett.

Another grandchild of Clyde Jewett's is Andrew Burns Jewett, Jr., the son of Andrew and Rosa Jewett.

A daughter, Deborah, has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Rex Young. Mrs. Young is the former Patricia Jewett, daughter of Everett G. Jewett. Rex and Patricia also have a son named Rex.

Vera and Blaine Brown proudly announce the birth of a great-grandson—the first of the family name. He is Eugene Blaine Brown, born July 15, 1973.

Berenice Jewett Bradshaw, (No. 1914-1) who signs herself, "the proud grandmother", reports the birth of their first granddaughter: Lavinia Tacy Alexandra Schreuder, born April 10, 1973, to Mr. and Mrs. Frederic W. Schreuder of New York City.

William and Diane (Hoffman) Becker are parents of another child, Tonia Michalle Becker, born June 18, 1973.

Grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Austin E. Emmons, Columbia, Conn. are: Erick David Emmons, born Jan. 11, 1972, at Manchester, Conn. to Lt. and Mrs. Eugene D. Emmons; and Rebecca Jane Gray, born April 5, 1973, at Norwich, Conn., to Mr. and Mrs. Russell M. Gray of Sterling, Conn.

Jennifer Jean Jewett, born May 29, 1973 at Escanaba, Michigan. Parents are Thomas J. Jewett and wife, Jean, of Iron River, Michigan.

Tajim Tamoana Monod, born September 24, 1972 at Papeeti, Tahiti, to Sharon Pierce Monod and her French husband, Erik Monod.

Damon Hughel, born January 3, 1973 to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hughel of Romulus, Michigan. Mrs. Hughel formerly Signa Sue Gage of Fenton, Michigan. Mary Jewett Damon line.

Charles Andrew Leney was born Nov. 24, 1972, to Lester T. and Edith (Brunton) Leney.

Kristen Hoffman was born Jan. 1, 1972, to William and Jane Hoffman.

Roberta C. Overbaugh, was born Mar. 23, 1972, to Robert and Nancy Overbaugh.

A son, Eric A. Krupula, was born in May, 1972, to Bruce and Ann Krupula.

A daughter, Shannon Margaret Pearl, was born Aug. 30, 1972, to William L. and Colleen Pearl.

John Paul Oswell was born Feb. 24, 1972, at Norwich, Conn., to Mr. and Mrs. George Oswell.

To Richard and Barbara (Stone) Sault were born a son, William Francis Sault, on Mar. 22, 1971, and a daughter, Susan Aileen Sault, on Feb. 2, 1973. Both births were in Keene, N. H.

A daughter, Jennifer Elizabeth, was born to Ward and Deborah (Stone) Sprague on May 14, 1973, at Keene, N. H.

Marriages

Mrs. Elizabeth Jewett Magner writes to tell us of the marriage of her daughter, Beth, to Robert Martin of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, on Jan. 20, 1973, at the Presbyterian Church of Morristown, N. J.

Nancy Gertrude Jewett, daughter of our Secretary-Treasurer and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Jewett, was married to Attorney Philip A. Heller on Dec. 16, 1973, in Lenox, Mass.

Barbara Dorn writes: "My daughter, Elsie Jeanette Dorn, was married on Apr. 14, 1973, at San Diego, Cal., to Mr. Darrel Gene Reynolds. Elsie Jeanette is the great-grand daughter of Jonathan Jewett Taylor (No. 6450).

"Also, my nephew's daughter, Miss Kathleen Horton, daughter of Lester Jewett Horton, was married June 30, 1973, to Mr. Richard Del Percio, in Philadelphia, Pa.

"Also, Miss Nancy Johnson was married to Mr. Irvin Nehring on Nov. 1973, at Thompson, Iowa. Nancy is the great-great-granddaughter of Jonathan Jewett Taylor (No. 6450)."

Susan Anne Geigel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Geigel of Kansas City, Mo. and Roger Kohl were married June 24, 1973, in the Pine Ridge Presbyterian Church in Kansas City. Susan's grandmother, Mrs. Fred S. Geigel, had the honor (and pleasure) of playing the nuptial music. The newlyweds, both graduates of Missouri University, are living in Macon, Mo., where both are connected with the school system.

Guy Allen Jewett (Albert Longley Jewett (No. 6758) genealogy) and Barbara June Schlacter were married on May 20, 1973, at Silver Springs, Md., and reside in Gaithersburg, Md.

Allen Freeman and Miss Suzanne E. Stephen were married on Aug. 18, 1973, in Hampton, Conn.

Miss Carol Lynne Jewett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas M. Jewett of Detroit, Michigan, to Mr. Roger H. Trost, Saturday, January 20, 1973, at Village United Presbyterian Church, Detroit, Michigan. A reception and dinner in church parlors followed the ceremony. The couple have made their home near Pigeon, Michigan. (Roger is the son of Mr. & Mrs. Chris Trost of Pigeon.)

Mr. Charles Alton Jewett, son of Herschel C. Jewett of Mason, Michigan, to Miss Victoria Jayne Dillon of Ada, Oklahoma, on July 7, 1973. The couple are employed in mortgage banking at Washington, D. C. and reside at 6630 McLean Ct., McLean, Va., 22101.

Carol Ann Deibler, daughter of Henry and Elizabeth Deibler, was married on Dec. 30, 1972, to Phillip Clinton Kanagy.

Mark Hall, son of Arthur and Marcia Hall, was married in Feb., 1973.

Although this couple have been married nearly eight years, it is nice to record their marriage in our Year Book: Edith Brunton and Lester T. Leney were married on Oct. 8, 1966. Lester is the son of Byron and Elinor Leney of Georgeville, Quebec.

Wedding Anniversaries

Mr. & Mrs. Austin E. Emmons

Our Secretary-Treasurer and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Jewett, celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary on Sept. 2, 1973.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin E. Emmons, Lake Road, Columbia, Conn., celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on Oct. 4, 1972, with an open house held at the Hampton, Conn., Congregational Church Parish House. The party was given by their children, Lt. and Mrs. Eugene D. Emmons, and Mrs. and Mrs. Russell M. Gray.

The 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Allen S. Frederick, 652 Hull Road, Mason, Mich., was celebrated Oct. 21, 1973, with an open house. Many Jewetts were among the friends and relatives attending. Their three daughters served refreshments: Mrs. Janet Brown of Florissant, Mo., Mrs. Elaine Groves of Flint, Mich., and Mrs. Mary Ann Cox of Midland, Mich. Nine grandchildren greeted the guests.

A 50th wedding anniversary was celebrated on Aug. 13, 1973. by Albert W. and Helen Haley, of Rowley, Mass. Mr. Haley is a Director of the Jewett Family of America.

News Notes

Albert W. Haley, Sr., one of our "Family" Directors, and a life-long resident of Rowley, Mass., was presented with his 50-year jewel on Mar. 6, 1974, by the John T. Heard Lodge, AF and AM, of Ipswich, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Stone and several members of their family are active in the play, "The Old Homestead," given annually in Swanzey, N. H.

Mrs. Fawn (Jewett) Gordon (No. 1620) retired in Aug. 1972 from her position with the State of Conn.

Silas H. Jewett, Morrisville, Vermont, has received the Distinguished Service Award of the National Association of County Agricultural Agents. An extension agent in Lamoille County, Vermont, for many years, Mr. Jewett was cited for outstanding work in both agriculture and rural development. He has been especially active in assisting with the development of the centralized laboratory for dairy herd improvement testing. He now serves Vermont and New Hampshire, and works cooperatively with the Milk Market Administrator's office in Boston.

Mrs. Madeline Lindsay went to Mason, Mich., for her high school centennial celebration, and remarks that in her class prophesy in 1926, she predicted a "Rocket to the Moon!"

Mrs. Austin E. Emmons has sustained fractures of her right shoulder and right wrist in separate accidents in the past year. We hope that she is now feeling fine again.

Family Association President Clifford Jewett and his lovely wife, Lucile, have made some wonderful trips in the past year. In September, 1973, they went to Vienna, Austria, with side trips on the Danube and to Salzburg. Over the New Year holidays, they spent a week on a cruise on the Carribbean. On Mar. 22, 1974, they plan to leave for Dubrovnik, Yugoslavia, with a side trip to Venice.

The Jewett Family of America received a lovely Thank-You from the Jewetts of Michigan for the 1973 Dedication of the Year Book to their pioneering ancestors.

Robert Lee Mejer, assistant professor of Art at Quincy, Ill., College, and formerly of South Bend, Ind., has been selected to appear in a number of Who's Who publications as a result of his fine work in art. These include Marquis' "Who's Who in America," "Men of Achievement—1973," "Who's Who in American Art," 1973 edition;

"Dictionary of International Biography," 1973 edition, and "Who's Who in the Midwest," 1972 edition. A graduate of Ball State University, he received his master's degree from Miami University. His mother is Mrs. (Marion) Vince F. Mejer, one of our new members.

Amy Jewett (Mrs. Wm. W. Jewett), writes that she and her daughter, Celeste, visited the old Cemetery in Jewett City, Conn., and found the grave of Eleazer Jewett, an early settler of Lisbon, and founder of Jewett City. At one time, Celeste owned the South Bigelow schoolhouse in Hampton, Conn. Mrs. Jewett is pleased to own a copy of "A Bird's Eye View of the Jewett Family,", written by Susan Jewett Howe Griggs of Abington, Conn.

There was a family birthday party on Sept. 19, 1973 for the triplets born in 1969 to the Gerald Jewett family of Mesick, Mich. Their names are Betty, Bonnie, and Brad Jewett. There were three cakes and three identical birthday outfits for the little four-year-olds. They have three sisters and a brother. Mrs. Jewett says that three are not much more difficult to care for than one. "From the time they were little, I learned that what you do for one, you do for all. It's as simple as that!" she said.

In a lovely letter from Vera (Mrs. Blaine) of Forest Grove, Ore., she tells of selling part of the old farm.

Miss Lucille Howell, Mrs. Brown's niece, is planning to retire soon from her position in the Defense Department at Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell T. Jewett now live at Colonial Heights, Va., not too far from their son, Russell Eric Jewett.

Kelly Gilliland of Lancaster, Cal., is training for the Sheriff's Department. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilliland (she is the former Phoebe Morrill), the grandson of Ralph and Hope (Jewett) Morrill, and the great-grandson of Amos Everett Jewett.

Our new member, Miss Eliza Jane Jewett, is the daughter of Mrs. Jewett and the late Mr. Harrison Jewett.

Edna Jewett thanks all for their Christmas cards.

She also remarks that several members have asked what the family numbers are and where they come from. She reports that, normally, at present, the last member's number that is listed in a person's line is used. If tracing is incomplete, no number is used.

Mrs. Bearg of Ainsworth, Nebraska, writes that she is working on papers of the late Clyde Jewett Skinner. They are descendants of Deacon Noah Jewett (No. 587) in the Genealogies.

From L. M. Allen of Concord, Cal., comes this quotation from a tombstone in the northeast corner of Nortonville cemetery: "Walter S. Jewett, Died 4-21-1869, age 19; Milton Jewett, Died 8-20-1874, age 16; sons of H. and E. Jewett.

Mrs. Ruth Mixter Bezinian, a 40-year resident of Montreal, Canada, has moved to a condominium at Stuart, Florida. Mrs. Mary Beson, her younger sister, is caring for her after a serious illness.

Gregory Rooker of Radford, Virginia, is in Pittsburg, California, working on local newspapers. Mr. Dan Rooker publishes a newspaper at Radford, Virginia.

The three, small, blonde daughters of Mr. and Mrs. K. Kielbania, Fort Lauderdale, Florida, modeled for a Sears Fashion Show, immediately became famous and had many offers.

Professor David Pierce Beatty of Port Elgin, New Brunswick, is spending a year's sabbatical in Switzerland, England and Scotland. He expects to visit Bradord, England and compile an article on Bradford.

Dr. Ronald E. Benson of Lima, Ohio, has been promoted to Associate Professor at Ohio Northern University. He recently purchased a new home in Lima, Ohio.

Miss Ruth Ann Richert of Los Altos Hills, California, graduated from the University of California at Berkeley in Design, and is now employed in San Francisco as a graphic designer.

Mark Jewett, age 18, of Detroit, son of Mr. & Mrs. Douglas N. Jewett, has the honor of being Drum Major and President of Redford Union High High School Band. Mark also is an expert hockey player. He recently traveled to Europe, visiting Germany, Austria, France and Luxembourg.

Mr. and Mrs. Sigurd Eriksen, Jr. purchased a 200-year-old house on Old Bethlehem Road, Quakertown, Pa. Sigurd is a navigator for Pan American out of New York City.

Clayton Jewell Jr. has opened a De Luxe Meat Market at Okemos, Michigan, which he operates in conjunction with his Lansing meat packing business. During the beef freeze, he trucked many loads of beef from Nebraska.

Mr. & Mrs. Steven P. Jewett, students at M.S.U., spent Spring season studying in England.

Mr. & Mrs. James Lee Jewett of Lansing, Michigan, visited Bradford, England and brought back the news that Bradford is an industrial city of 200,000 population.

Steven, and wife Kathy, Jewett, managed the Jewett Miniature Golf Course at Higgins Lake, Michigan for the summer.

Mr. Arthur W. Jewett, age 75 of Mason, Michigan, is constructing a 300-bed convalescent home at Mason. Mr. Jewett operates Greenhouses, the Jewett Funeral Home, an airport and a subdivision, along with 32-acre Statice Farm. He still finds time for many civic projects.

Mrs. Nancy Johnson Lee, age 41, of Verona, New Jersey, formerly of Mason, Michigan, was honored by a national award for Outstanding Elementary School Teacher of 1973 in Washington, D. C., and will publish her biography.

Nancy says she owes her superior education to Mason High School. She inherited her love for children from her grandfather, J. Carl Jewett. Nancy received her B. A. degree in art and English at M. S. U., Wayne University, Columbia University and School of Visual Arts. She taught at Southfield School, Southfield, Michigan; Denton Avenue School, New Hyde Park, New York; Army Department Schools at Tours, France; The Spence School, New York City (a private school for girls); and Lincoln School, Nutley, New Jersey.

A tragic accident befell Mr. Steven M. Anderson, age 24, of Mason, Michigan. A train struck the heavy duty front loader he was driving at a crossing north of Mason on Friday, October 19. Steven suffered a fractured left arm, spinal and head injuries and left leg amputation. He is the eldest of three sons of Mrs. Janice Jewett Anderson, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Jewett, Mason, florist and mortician. Steven is a graduate of Central Michigan College. His address is c/o Arthur W. Jewett, 1020 E. Ash St., Mason, Mich., 48854.

Mrs. Judith Jewett Lamphere of Mason is prominent in teaching crafts. The daughter of the late Richard Jewett, florist, comes by this talent naturally.

Mr. Kermit Pierce of Williamston, Michigan, writes this romantic story of his daughter, Sharon: Sharon graduated from M. S. U., majored in English and Spanish, and went to Mexico City where she taught at the American School Foundation. While there she met a Frenchman, Erik Monod, whom she married. He taught at the same school. In 1970 they started their travels through Central America, South America and Ecuador by bus and hitchhiking. From Ecuador they took a boat to Galapogos Islands, then to Marquessas by sailboat where they joined a different party and went to Papeeti, Tahiti. Erik became T. V. announcer and ad commentator, with his picture appearing on T. V. Guide. Meanwhile, Sharon tutored the daughter of the Admiral of the French Navy. They lived in a native grass hut and later bought a sail boat. They are presently on their way to Boro Boro and Hawaii. Their baby was born in Papeeti, Tahiti, September 24, 1972, and is named Tajim Tamoana Monod. (The first name is associated with Ghengis Kahn, the middle is Tahitian-meaning deep, blue water).

Mason High School, Mason, Michigan, celebrated its Centennial Year June 16, 1973. Many Jewetts attended: Mr. Ralph F. Jewett of Royal Oak, Michigan, the eldest, class of 1911.

Part of a delightful 1973 Christmas letter from Jewett Family Director George F. (Fritz) Jewett, Jr., of San Francisco, Cal. reads:

"Willkommen!" the Burgermeister of Saulheim greeted us as we descended from our chartered bus. The Liederkranz Men's Choir was drawn up on the front steps of the Sangerhalle which was decorated with long banners; at a signal, the men burst into song. From that point on the twenty-two cousins from the United States were the guests of this small town in West Germany near Mainz where great-grandfather Weyerhaeuser came from. We toured local vineyards and a winery; tasted wine until we were awash, ate too much, listened to excellent singing, and were made honorary members of the Liederkranz.

Actually, this was the beginning of an East African safari with the Howie Meadowcroft and Ted Weyerhaeuser families. There were eleven children ranging in age from seven to nineteen and six parents. We made a circuit starting at Nairobi mostly camping near Kilimanjaro, in the Serengeti, Mara Game Reserve and at Lake Baringo. This was the Jewett's third safari but the first time for the others. The game was cooperative and we got some super pictures in addition to getting to know each other better than ever.

This trip was a high point in the year, but other events are fun to recollect as well. Spring vacation was spent on a charter sailboat cruising the Grenadines from St. Vincent to Grenada. Betsy and George each had a friend who enjoyed sailing, particularly when being dunked in the ocean from a bosun's chair hung out over the rail!

The Fritz Jewett Family: Lucy (his wife), George, Betsy and Fritz.

Necrology

It is with sorrow that we tell of the death of Mrs. Albert R. Hodgman, of Stoneham, Mass. She was the former Imogene Hale Jewett (No. 4273), daughter of George Frederic Jewett (No. 2453), and Imogene Eliza Herrick Jewett. She and Mr. Hodgman celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary in 1972.

Mrs. Dorothy Brackenridge Jewett, widow of Carl W. Jewett, passed away on Feb. 20, 1972.

Mrs. Crissie A. (Pearl) Upton Kowalski passed away.

Rockwell Richmond, husband of Ida May (Pearl) Richmond, passed away unexpectedly in July, 1973, at Manchester, Conn. He was buried at Canterbury, Conn.

Mrs. Grace E. (Garland) Jewett, 83, wife of George M. Jewett, Danvers, Mass., died Jan. 25, 1974. She is survived by two sons, Richard G. Jewett of Hyde Park, and Elwin S. Jewett of Morrow, Ga.; a brother, 4 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren.

We are saddened to hear of the death of Harrison Jewett of Stonington, who died Apr. 27, 1973.

Little Peter William Leney, 5-month-old son of Lester T. and Edith (Brunton) Leney of Quebec, passed away Dec. 1, 1971.

Clarence E. Jewett, 67, of Kingsville, Texas, died on Aug. 24, 1973. Born Feb. 2, 1906, in Elgin, Texas, he was the son of Edward C. and Gertrude Hanner Jewett. Surviving are his widow, Evelyn; two daughters, Mrs. D. M. (Marie Bernice) Hunt of Littleton, Colo., and Mrs. S. R. (Madeline) Andrews of Houston, Texas; one son, C. E. Jewett of Houston; his mother of Elgin; one sister, Virginia Jewett, also of Elgin; and nine grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his first wife, Marie, and his father. Burial was in Kingsville, Texas.

Frederick A. Toft (No. 11732) passed away on May 21, 1973, at Owego, N. Y. He was born Mar. 18, 1908, to Sidney and Bertha Jewett Toft of Catatonk, N. Y. Bertha was the daughter of Charles Jewett, who was the brother of Henry Milton Jewett. Dorothy Toft Peret, who passed away the year before, was the sister of Frederick A. Toft. This notice was sent by Frances Simmons Walters, a second cousin.

A. Arthur Jewett (No. 8143), 85 years old, died in Newburyport, Mass. on Oct. 23, 1973. Born in Solon, Maine, on Feb. 23, 1888, he was the son of Howard Leslie and Ella N. (Savage) Jewett. He leaves a son, Richard H. Jewett; two daughters, Mrs. Beverley Grant of Methuen, and Mrs. Eleanor A. Perry of Quincy; three grandchildren; and a sister, Mrs. Alta Rae of Waterville, Maine. He was the widower of Modeana P. (Spear) Jewett.

Mrs. Earle B. (Mabel Jewett) Blair (No. 8950), 84 years old, died on Sep't. 18, 1973, in Scottsdale, Ariz. She is survived by one son, Warren Blair of Riverside, Ill.; two daughters, Mrs. Carroll (Elizabeth) Calkins, and Mrs. Clifford (Majorie) Benson, both of Mesa, Ariz.; one brother, Carroll Jewett of Mazon, Ill.; one sister, Mrs. S. R. (Reva) King of Durant, Miss; four grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren. Her brother, Carroll, writes that she was quite proud of her membership in the Jewett Family of America and that she encouraged him and his sister, Reva, to join.

Mrs. Nellie M. Wallace, widow of Rev. David Wallace of Lunenburg, Mass., died July 5, 1973. She, also, has been keenly interested in the "Family."

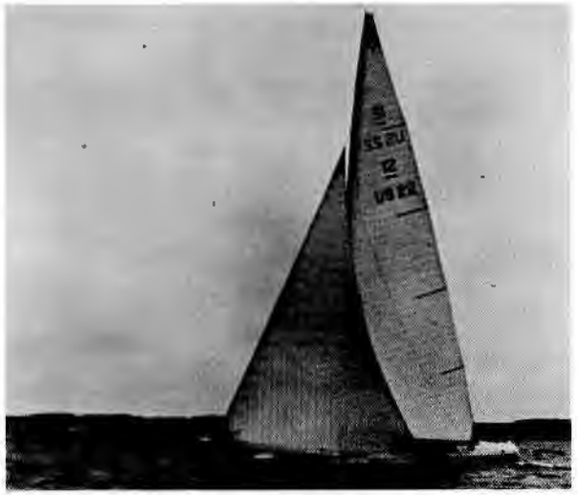
Margaret E. Jewett of West Newton, Mass., died Feb. 23, 1974.

Mrs. Helen Elizabeth Jenkins Cralle, the wife of Col. Jefferson Ball Cralle', died Sep't. 25, 1973. She was born in New Haven, Conn., Oct. 31, 1899, a sister of John F. Jenkins of Greenfield, N. H. She and her husband resided at Liberte, Owen's P. O., King George Co., Virginia. Beside her husband and her brother, she also leaves a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Jenkins Cralle' Samson, and a granddaughter, Julia Samson.

Dr. Harold C. Pickwick, M. D. of Lisbon, N. H. died recently. We have no other word. He had been a member since 1953.

Mrs. Paul L. (Vivian Seay) Mixter of West Palm Beach, Fla., died Nov. 1, 1973. She was the widow of the late Paul L. Mixter of the Mattie Jewett Mixter line. One daughter, Particia Ann, of West Palm Beach, survives. Mrs. Mixter was born on Sep't. 25, 1903, to Robert L. Seay and Vernie Coffey Seay of Amherst Co., Va. The Seays were one of the First Families of Virginia, having arrived from England in 1609. Her ancestors participated in the Bacon Rebellion and the Civil War. In time, the Seay family home and grounds were sold to Southern Seminary and Junior College. The late Mr. Mixter published the South Haven Tribune, South Haven, Mich., and the Radford News Journal, Radford, Va. Vivian was a very beautiful and outstanding vocalist.

Mr. Ward R. Bullen, Mason, Michigan, died Thursday, September 13, 1973. Memorial services were held at Mason First Presbyterian Church on Sunday, September 16. Arrangements were by the Jewett Funeral Home. Mr. Bullen was born August 13, 1880 and was a life-long resident of Mason. As a young man he bred, raised and trained horses. He shipped his horses to France during World War I for use in the U. S. Cavalry. He did appraising for the Federal Land Bank, was a life-member of Masonic Lodge and Past President O.E.S. No. 130. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church, Ingham County Farmers' Club, Mason Senior Citizens, Ingham County Pioneer Society, and President of the Mason Cooperative Shipping Association. Mr. Bullen married Pearl E. Townsend in 1906, who survives. The couple marked their 67th wedding anniversary May 5, 1973. Two sons are Richard of Clarkston and Wayne of Mason. Three daughters are Mrs. Sarah Robbins of Mason, Mrs. Mary Wighall of Clarkston, and Mrs. Roberta Cotton of Holt.



Fritz Jewett And The Intrepid

All members of the Jewett Family should have a great interest in the America's Cup races in September, 1974, and the trials off Newport, R. I. in July and August. George F. (Fritz) Jewett, Jr. (10362), one of the Directors of the Jewett Family of America, is a 1/3 owner of the "Intrepid," two-time winner of the America's Cup, which will be among the yachts competing for the right to defend the trophy.

In the Spring of 1973, Fritz, George Schuchart, and Charles Hughes, all yachting friends on the West Coast, purchased the "Intrepid," and soon announced plans for a West Coast Bid for the premier prize in yachting under the banner of Intrepid/West.

Like many others, the three West Coast yachtsmen had deep feelings that the sailing fraternity on the Pacific slope is blessed with the skill, leadership and support needed to mount such a major effort and make it a success.

But, from excerpts of letters to Roger Jewett, one of our Honorary Directors for Life, let Fritz tell the story in his own words:

Christmas, 1973—The Intrepid is now being rebuilt to a new design in San Diego, a crew is being selected and the necessary funds are being raised. It appears there will be four American boats in contentions with the challengers from England, France and Australia.

Be sure to root for Intrepid in the trials off Newport, R. I. next July and August, so we can be there in September of the actual America's Cup races.

February, 1974—When we bought Intrepid, the inventory included 33 bags of Hood sails, and I understand that Hood will help with any recutting or refurbishing of these sails.

The Intrepid is due to be shipped back to Newport on June 5, and we hope to take up residence ourselves around the 4th of July. I am planning on taking a leave of absence from my company for the period of the races as, to me, this is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to participate in the America's Cup competition.

(Editor's note: Fritz is senior vice president, administration, of the Potlatch Corporation, San Francisco, Cal.)

April, 1974—The boat has been launched and has been very finely tuned. The crew had two training sessions, with two to go before the boat is shipped back to Newport in June. The first series of trials starts June 24.

There may be some races arranged with the old Colombia before Intrepid is shipped East. This will be very helpful in whipping the crew into shape.

An article in the Jan. 21, 1974 issue of Sports Illustrated tells more about the great 12-meter yacht.

In order to achieve broad support of all interested friends and "Sailors", the tax-exempt Seattle Sailing Foundation entered the picture. In October, the Intrepid was turned over to the Foundation, and a special committee, including Fritz Jewett, is overseeing the project.

After the America's Cup campaign is over, Intrepid will be returned to the West Coast where it will be used as something of a training yacht, to expose more sailors to what Fritz' partner George Schuchart terms "the ultimate in sailing."

Mr. Schuchart said, "Its the ultimate goal of all who sail to get aboard a 12-Meter, and that's our idea. We'd like the little guy to want to join in this effort, too, and to feel like this is 'his' boat. We want to provide sailing aspirants something to sail on after the America's Cup—rather than decommissioning the boat and storing it in a shed and letting it go to dryrot."

Contributions may be sent to the Seattle Sailing Foundation –Intrepid/West Project, 1807 East Hamlin St., Seattle, Wash., 78102.

People living in California may prefer to send their contribution to California International Sailing Association, 747 East Green St., Pasedena, Cal., 91101, with the amount designated for the Intrepid/West Project.

Mr. Schuchart says, "We know by tank-testing that the boat is immeasureably faster than in 1967 or 1970. The role played by the American defender this year should be the most formidable ever mounted in 12-Meters. We've got our work cut out for us. It's scary!

"The America's Cup is the purest form of a well-defined international competition, and that says a lot—it's saying this is the best we've got against your best, whoever you may be.

"The responsibility in such a venture cannot be underestimated because you must understand that the Cup has been sucessfully defended since 1851.

"The commitment must be based solely on whatever is best for the effort—crew, sails, equipment — the paramount thing is whatever is necessary for the boat—without any compromise. There can be no compromise when you consider the difference in boat speeds to be about 2/5ths of a second a mile."

Fritz Jewett is excited and delighted with the whole venture, and he writes to thank his Jewett Family for their interest and good wishes. Jewett Family of America—Arise! Yo-ho-ho, three cheers—and a barrel of good wishes for Fritz and the Intrepid!

Family Gatherings

THE REUNION OF DESCENDANTS OF FRANK GREENWOOD AND NORA WELLS JEWETT

Related By Wells Jewett

On Thanksgiving Day, 1973, a family group totaling 19 assembled at the winter home of Wells and Mary Jewett in the foothills of the Sierra-Nevada mountains near Grass Valley, California. Wells and Mary spend their summer months at their Lake Minnetonka home into which Wells was born some 55 years ago.

Wells is a son of Frank Greenwood Jewett (6733) and Nora Wells Jewett (6748). Frank Greenwood Jewett was a son of Frank Walter Jewett (4236), and Nora Wells was the daughter of Edward Payson Wells and Ellen M. Johnson (4243). They were married in 1906. Frank died on May 13, 1953 and Nora on December 6, 1969. They had four children: Ann Wilder Jewett Cullen; Louise Roberts Jewett Sudduth; Frank Greenwood Jewett, Jr; and Wells. All but Frank Jr. were present at the Grass Valley gathering.

Ann Cullen is widowed, lives in Minnetonka, Minn., and has two married children: Ann Cullen Cassell of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, with four children; and William Jewett Cullen of Minnetonka, Minn., with three children. She was born July 4, 1908 in Hibbing, Minn.

Louise Sudduth is married to William W. Sudduth and lives in Kansas City, Missouri and Lake of the Ozarks, Missouri. She was born August 16, 1910 in Hibbing, Minnesota. They have four children: Edward Wells Sudduth of Newark, California, with three children; John Howland Sudduth of Topeka, Kansas with three children; Charles Norton Sudduth of Kansas City, Missouri, with three children; and William W. Sudduth Jr. of Kansas City, unmarried.

Frank G. Jewett Jr. is married to Betty Jones and lives at Deephaven, Minnesota, just across the road from Wells. He was born April 14, 1914 in Minneapolis, Minnesota. They have four children: Frank Greenwood Jewett III of Deephaven, Minn., with one daughter and another child due momentarily; Lt. Theodore Jewett, a doctor, at Great Lakes, Illinois and unmarried; Peter Jewett of Deephaven, Minn., unmarried; and Nancy Jewett, unmarried and a student at Pacific University, Forest Grove, Oregon.

Wells was married April 21, 1967 to Mary Dunham and has three children by a previous marriage. They are: Mary Ellen (Bambi) Jewett Peterson of Petaluma, California, with one child, Heather; Michael Wells Jewett, unmarried, of Costa Mesa, California; and Christopher Kyle Jewett, unmarried, of Deephaven, Minn. Wells was born November 23, 1918 in Minneapolis, Minn. Mary Dunham Jewett has two children by a previous marriage: Susan Frank Johnson, with three daughters; and James Frank Jr., unmarried. Both live in Minneapolis, Minn.

Other members of the family present at the Grass Valley gathering were Odin and Lois Jahr of Grass Valley (Lois is a sister of Mary Dunham Jewett); Edward Sudduth, has wife Emily, and his three children (son and grandchildren of Louise Jewett Sudduth); Peter Sudduth and Jimmy Sudduth (two other grandchildren of Louise Jewett Sudduth); Nancy Jewett (daughter of Frank Greenwood Jewett Jr.); and Pauline Pierce Mulholland, the guest of honor.

Pauline is our "Eastern" cousin. She is the widow of John Mulholland, the magician, and has lived nearly all of her life in New York City. She is a most interesting and exciting person, and enticing her to leave her beloved New York and travel all the way to California, that never-never land, was a major achievement. She is the daughter of Sarah Louise Johnson Pierce (4244) who was the daughter of Ann Wilder Jewett Johnson (2406) who was the namesake of Ann Wilder Jewett Cullen.

Another major achievement was catching Wells' sister, Ann Wilder Jewett Cullen, on her way from Australia to Minneapolis and between trips to the Antarctic last winter and the Arctic next winter, and many other fantastic places, as a "birder" of near professional proportions.

As most of their guests traveled from San Francisco, Portland, Kansas City, Minneapolis, New York and Australia, all arriving the same evening, Wells and Mary Jewett were indeed very flattered!

Supplementary list of family members present:

1. Wells Jewett
2. Mary Dunham Jewett
3. Mary Ellen (Bambi) Jewett Peterson
4. Fargo Peterson (her husband)
5. Heather Peterson
6. Ann Wilder Jewett Cullen
7. Louise Roberts Jewett Sudduth
8. William W. Sudduth (her husband)
9. Edward Wells Sudduth
10. Emily Klein Sudduth (his wife)
11. Cynthia Sudduth
12. Garnet Sudduth } (Children of Edward)
13. Ned Sudduth
14. Nancy Jewett (Daughter of F. G. J. Jr.)
15. Peter Sudduth (Son of John Sudduth)
16. James Sudduth (Son of Charles Sudduth)
17. Odin Jahr
18. Lois Jahr (Sister of Mary Dunham Jewett)
19. Pauline Pierce Mulholland (Daughter of Sarah Louise Pierce)

A COLUMBUS, OHIO AREA JEWETT FAMILY REUNION

On Sunday, July 29, 1973, the descendants of Cyrenus Isiah Jewett (5145) met at the Old Worthington Inn just north of Columbus, Ohio, at a luncheon. The Inn was once a Stage Coach stop, and has been in operation all these years as a very good eating place.

After lunch, the group went to the home of one member in North Columbus for an afternoon of visiting and reminiscing. Genealogy books were provided by Mary Lou Gorski, as well as genealogical inquiry forms, and all had a most pleasant time.

THE SAN FRANCISCO AREA JEWETT FAMILY REUNION

The Thanksgiving Family Reunion of the San Francisco area Jewetts was held at the Blue Dolphin, a restaurant bordering San Francisco Bay and about 20 miles from the old Burr home.

Dinner was served in a private room at which time two chefs carved and served the turkey for the group, and, afterward, all adjourned to the Burr Mansion in Hayward.

Along with the evening's pleasant visiting, another light repast was served. Travel pictures of various members were shown. Also time was given over to somewhat serious and solid talks, and papers were read, such as those from remarks of Dr. Richard Evans of the Salt Lake Mormon Tabernacle.

Unfortunately, no pictures were taken of the group, which consisted of about 40 relatives and in-laws, although some movies were taken. Also there were shown old motion pictures of members of the Jewett Family dated back between 20 and 30 years. These annual Thanksgiving Gatherings have been held for over 80 years, and as many as 65 to 70 relatives and friends have attended at one time according to the recollection of Mr. Hugh S. Jewett, a member of the Jewett Family Board of Directors.

CONNECTICUT JEWETT REUNION

The 25th annual Jewett Family Reunion was held Sunday, September 9, 1973 in the Congregational Church Parish House, Hampton, Conn. Church service was 10:15 a.m., Pot luck dinner at 12:15.

Mrs. Viola Clapp was re-elected President, Vice President Austin E. Emmons, Columbia and Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. William W. Pearl, Cedar Swamp Road, Hampton, Conn. A short business meeting followed the dinner, messages were read from those unable to attend. A display of family pictures was on exhibit. The attendance was small this year.

The 1974 reunion will be held in June at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moon, Parsonage Road, Hampton, Conn. A discussion was held on time and place for next reunion. It was felt a private home where outside activities could take place might help the attendance especially the younger family members. All members of the Jewett family are welcome to attend our Reunions.

THE MASON, MICHIGAN—1973 JEWETT FAMILY REUNION

The 59th Annual Jewett Family Reunion took place Sunday, July 29th at Laylin Jewett Memorial Park, Mason, Michigan. The day was pleasant, warm and refreshing for the 63 members who shared and enjoyed the delicious pot-luck dinner set up on one long table.

Emery and Joseph Jewett supplied the colorful garden flower centerpieces. Jack A. Lindsay gave the blessing while President Arthur W. Jewett called the meeting to order. There was no election of officers as the following were appointed for life: Vice President, Joseph L. Jewett; Secretary Treasurer, Mrs. Madeleine Lindsay; Historian, Herschel C. Jewett.

A round-table discussion gave each person a chance to speak and tell of their year's activities. Herschel spoke on the Jewett Homestead of Chelsea, Mich., and described the Ague, plus hardships of pioneer life.

Mrs. Ward Bullen spoke about the Homestead and the Freer families of Alva, Dolly, Gabriel, Lewis, Jonas and Eugene who lived near the Jewett Homestead.

Mr. & Mrs. James L. Jewett of Lansing who are both teachers, told of their visit to Bradford, England.

Mrs. Nancy Johnson Lee of Verona, New Jersey told of her national award as outstanding elementary school teacher of America—1973.

Six graduates received congratulations: Mr. Drew Jewett, East Lansing High School; Mr. Rodney Jewett from M. S. U.; Miss Ruth Ann Richert, U. of C., Berkeley; Mr. Dennis F. Rooker from U. of Virginia, summa cum laude; Miss Sue Ann Jewett Grand Blanc High School; and Mr. Jeffry Anderson, Blissfield High School.

Wedding anniversary congratulations were extended to two couples: Mr & Mrs. Ward Bullen of Mason who observed their 67th on May 5, 1973, and Mr. & Mrs. Harry Brown their 60th on June 28th, 1973. The Browns appeared on Lansing television for the marking of their anniversary. They have sold their farm and now reside at Jarvis Acres Retirement Home, Diamondale. Mrs. Ruth Stewart of Muskegon brought her father to the reunion.

Mrs. Madeleine Jewett Lindsay donated 112 Jewett Family of America books to members of the family. Also, many of the books had been mailed to libraries and historical societies.

The Jewett Family of America honored the Michigan Jewetts by dedicating their 1973 Year Book to Jewetts of Michigan, and published the history of Jewett Homestead, Chelsea, Michigan. The authors were as follows: Mrs. Jane Miller, the owner, contributed the old Eleazer Jewett letters from 1836 and the Jewett school house history. Mr. Kermit Pierce, whose great-grandfather owned the Homestead, contributed old clippings and diaries. Mrs. Madeleine Lindsay coordinated the genealogy letters and history. Mrs. Gladys Burroughts sent in the Fletcher genealogy and the Spaulding House item. Mrs. Ethel Jewett Stephan of Grand Rapids brought some very old, treasured photographs. Herschel Jewett displayed the hand-painted Jewett tree banner.

The ancestor game was enjoyed by all with five prizes going to the persons who drew lucky ancestor names.

Roger and Valerie Jewett donated three watermelons which were enjoyed by all but especially by Wendy Lamphere, winner of the children's watermelon-eating contest. All participants received prizes.
Whitman's chocolates were given to the following:

Eldest man—Mr. Ward Bullen, age 93.

Eldest lady—Mrs. Ward Bullen, age 89.

Lady coming farthest—Mrs. Ronald Joy Jewett of Phoenix, Arizona.

Man coming farthest—Mr. Robert O. Rossman, Adrian, Mich.
Mr. R. A. Jewett-Ingersoll, Ont., Canada

Youngest girl—Carol Jewett, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Roger Jewett, Mason, who received a pretty doll.

Youngest boy—Kevin Jewell, son of Mr. & Mrs. Clayton Jewell Jr. of Leslie, who received a toy dog.

A very pleasant meeting was enjoyed by all, thanks to Herschel Jewett for writing invitations.

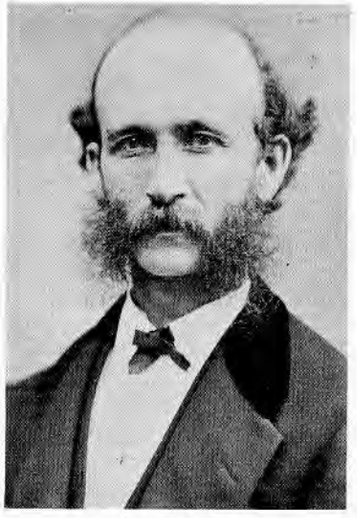
Out-of-town guests were:

Mrs. Ruth Stewart, Muskegon; Mr. & Mrs. Robert A. Jewett, Ingersoll, Ontario, Canada; Mr. Richards and Dr. Vivian Richards, (who is an optometrist) of Flint, Mich.; Mr. & Mrs. Clayton L. Jewell St., Leslie, and seven grandchildren—Lynn, Scott, Sherie, Kevin, Tamara, Jodi and Kathy, all of Leslie; Mrs. Ethel Stephan, Grand Rapids; Mrs. Clayton Jewell Jr. & family, Leslie; Mr. & Mrs. Albert Johnson, Detroit; Mrs. Theodore (Nancy) Lee of Verona, N. J.; Mr. & Mrs. Kermit Pierce, Williamston; Mr. & Mrs. Robert O. Rossman and family, Adrian; Mr. & Mrs. Donald Bearss and children—Dona Lyn, Mark, Randall, of Adrian; Mrs. Luella Townsend Masters of Seminole, Florida; Mrs. Birdie Salmi, Lansing; Mrs. Ronald (Joy) Jewett, Phoenix, Arizona; Mr. & Mrs. Joseph L. Jewett and Sue Ann of Grand Blanc; Mrs. Janice Anderson and family, Blissfield; Mr. & Mrs. Jack Lindsay, Detroit.

Biography

AMORY JEWETT, JR. (5617)

By Willard Jewett, Sec. & Treas.,
The Jewett Family of America, Inc.



Amory Jewett, Jr.

I am very fortunate in having much information about my family's past. Good and accurate records were kept on each and every one, and many little anecdotes are recorded which make my forebearers come alive to me. For this reason I find it difficult to know which one to write about first, but perhaps the most interesting one (for others to read about) is my great-grandfather, Amory Jewett, Jr.

Amory Jr. was born in Lexington, Massachusetts on January 17, 1833, the first born child of Amory (3165) and Elizabeth Lucy (Diewaide) Jewett. He had three brothers and two sisters. His father was a carpenter and cabinet maker who worked at the Charlestown Navy Yard (at one time fitting all the doors on the U.S. Cumberland) where he was injured by slipping from a ladder and the resulting infection caused the amputation of his foot and ankle.

Young Amory witnessed the attempts made with an artificial foot and ankle for his father, and he was in constant attendance to him. As a result the doctor who had the case recommended that young Amory become a doctor. In 1868, after serving in the Union Army, he attended and graduated from medical school. The family then lived in the new brick house at 1074 Washington Street, Boston, Massachusetts, on the corner of Camden Place.

The new Dr. Amory Jewett, Jr. settled in the small town of Ashburnham, Massachusetts, and there set up his first practice. He had a good and successful practice there, and persuaded his parents to move to Ashburnham too. He was invited into a partnership with Dr. H. H. Brigham, of Fitchburg, Massachusetts (this city's outstanding physician and surgeon) where there would be greater opportunities, fees, etc., but before this was realized the first of many misfortunes which were to follow him throughout his professional life now occurred.

(Quoting now from my grandfather's, Dr. William A. Jewett, account of his father's misfortune):

Birthplace of Amory Jewett, Jr., Lexington, Mass.

"Just then there was a smallpox epidemic in Ashburnham. Eleven cases in the factories. My father attended them all. Eight cases survived, and came out all right. Soon he came down with smallpox himself. I remember his going to Boston to help (professionally) Frank Mahan who was sick with smallpox; driving from Ashburnham to Fitchburg in a sleigh during a heavy snow storm, the sleigh tipped over, the horse ran away, and he walked half way to Fitchburg too late to catch the train and too late to help Frank Mahan who died two days later. My mother and I stayed in Ashburnham all the time my father was recovering.

After that the people of Ashburnham developed the idea that nobody wanted a "smallpox doctor" (regardless of the success he had with his eight cases). So then to Fitchburg and this venture was not a success for father was not at all well during this period."

Great-grandmother Jewett was the former Margaret Madalenah Porter. She was young Amory's second wife as he had married her sister

Abagail Porter first and she had died three months and four days later (another of the misfortunes which seemed to follow this gentle man).

Next was the hotel business. Amory's brother-in-law, Charles E. Campbell of New Castle, New Hampshire, who had married Sarah Elisebeth Porter, owned a beautiful part of the shoreline in New Castle and here in 1874 he built the original Hotel Wentworth (about one-third part of the present building). Dr. Amory (using funds left by his grandmother Rand) invested in this proposition, and the hotel was operated by Campbell & Jewett, Proprietors. The original hotel had eighty-two rooms, and cost about $50,000.00. The accessability to the hotel from the port of Portsmouth, New Hampshire was not too good in those days (a bridge was later built, changing this situation), travel was by stage, and road conditions in general were not conducive to tourist travel. By 1879 funds had run out and the partners were forced to sell.

I guess it was a case of being too early in their timing and too little in their funds available. But their dream was not in vain, for today there stands the present "Wentworth By The Sea", one of the best of the many fine resort hotels on the New England coastline. Descendants of Charles E. Campbell still reside in the family home which is adjacent to the hotel.

After this experience Amory, Jr. returned to the practice of medicine again, in both Sterling and Hubbardston, Massachusetts (it was when the family was living in Hubbardston that my grandfather met my grandmother). Dr. Amory was persuaded during this period, by Dr. Ellis of Somerville, Massachusetts, to move to Somerville and take over the local pharmacy. So the family did move to Winter Hill, Somerville where they stayed for several years. (we have his records; prescriptions, compounds, etc.)

In failing health, and his wife having died, Amory, his daughter Ida Diewaide and son John Porter moved to Barnard, Vermont, where Amory practised medicine and the three of them conducted a small farm. They raised horses, poultry, and berries, and made maple syrup. There in Barnard the good doctor died at the age of sixty-four. His life, like many of ours, had been a pattern of highs and lows, but he had fought the "good fight" and now it was done.

A summation of his public life reveals the character of this man:

1. Educated in the Boston Public Schools
2. Veteran of the Union Army
3. Graduated M.D. from Eclectic College of Cincinnati, Ohio (1868)
4. School Committee, Town of Ashburnham, Massachusetts
5. Secretary of Fitchburg District Medical Society
6. President of Massachusetts Eclectic Medical Society
7. Member of I.O.O.F. and Masons (Knight Templars, Jerusalem Commandery, St. John's Lodge)
8. Skillful surgeon
9. Hotel proprietor
10. Pharmacist
11. Farmer

THE WENTWORTH,
New Castle, N. H.
— CAMPBELL & JEWETT, PROPRIETORS —

(There are two brochures printed in the 1870's that tell of this interesting old hotel. Here are exact excerpts from them.)

Newcastle, though apparently so irregular in form, is in fact very regular, being almost a perfect square with jutting points of land at the four corners, like the bastions of a fort. Its ancient name was Great Island. In 1693, in the reign of King William and Mary it was incorporated under the name of Newcastle for the consideration of three peppercorns to be paid annually. The town is largely in arrears to the British crown for peppercorns, and owes not only these but its legal allegiance, never having received any charter from the State of New Hampshire. Here was the first settlement of any consequence in New Hampshire, and for a long time it was the seat of the Provincial Government and the centre of trade. There are still remaining many relics of its former importance and prosperity, and associations of historical and legendary interest. The House is located one mile from the village proper, on a high bluff—the highest point of land in the Island, 80 feet above high water mark—on the shores of Little Harbor. It overlooks the sea and the whole surrounding country.

The Hotel has an unobstructed view of wide and various inland, river and ocean scenery. At night eight light-houses can be seen. There is not a window in the House which does not command a pleasant and interesting outlook. In this respect, it is believed to surpass any situation on the surrounding coasts, being higher above the sea-level than any point of seashore between Newburyport and Portland.

It is well known that the climate of this region has advantages over that of any other on the New England seaboard. It is observed also that here the east winds have little of that harsh, disagreeable "unfertile" and penetrating quality said to belong to those of the coasts of Massachusetts and Maine.

There is a pine grove directly behind the House on the western slope, fitted with swings and other conveniences for amusement and picnicking. At the foot of this grove is a body of salt water about twenty acres in extent, almost land-locked, shallow, luke-warm, suitable for those who cannot bear the shock of a colder bath on the beaches, and a very proper place for children's boating. There are sand beaches along Little Harbor side and bath houses belonging to the Hotel.

The house is new, and no pains have been spared to make it comfortable and convenient. There is gas in every room. The reading room, and billiard room are large and well furnished.

Row boats, sail boats and sailors furnished at moderate charges.

Good fishing ground in every direction.

The house is two-and-a-half miles from Portsmouth, fifty-six from Boston, fifty-two from Portland and sixty from Concord.

Coaches will run twice each way daily, connecting with through trains on all railroads. Carriages provided for special conveyance, or for pleasure driving at reasonable prices. A fine stable attached to the House.

Prices from $10.50 to $15.00 a week depending on the size, location, and number of persons, in a room.

Clothing Laundried in the best style.

Children under 12 years of age $7.00 per. week.

Servant, and nurses, occupying seats in the Dining Hall to be charged full price.

All rooms occupied less than 10 days, the regular transient price $3.00 a day, will be charged.

The Breakfast menu staggers the modern imagination. It offers four different teas, and coffee and chocolate, eleven broiled meats and fishes, eleven fried dishes, thirteen miscellaneous foods, from "dropped eggs" to cucumbers; three cold dishes, and no less than fifteen breads.

David Jewett And Masonry In Brazil

By James R. Case, 33°

From the Allocution of Sovereign Grand Commander delivered to the Supreme Council last September, we learned that "to the far south, the Supreme Council for Brazil . . . joined in events and activities commemorating the 150th anniversary of the year 1822 when Brazil became a separate nation." Assisting in the establishment of Brazilian independence that year was a "Norte Americano" by the name of David Jewett, whom the Brazilians "looked upon as the Americans looked upon Lafayette." He was also the one who introduced the Ancient and Accepted Rite into the then Empire.

David Jewett

Born near New London, Connecticut, in 1772, Jewett began the study of law under former Governor Griswold, but was offered the opportunity to sail to the Mediterranean as supercargo on his uncle's merchant vessel. He was so pleased with his first venture on the high seas that he forsook the law, began to study navigation, and soon entered upon his life career, which was to be spent largely on salt water.

During the late 1790's, he was commissioned in the United States Navy, given command of a 20-gun vessel, the "Trumbull," and was in West Indian waters when Haiti revolted from French rule. He rescued a boat load of refugees and brought them in to New London, where they were interned, some being sent to nearby Norwich. Among the latter was Pierre Boyer, a later president of Haiti. Jewett was in possession of the degrees of the Ancient and Accepted Rite and had documents to prove it. He visited Somerset Lodge, left some of his papers with local Masons, and may have communicated some of the degrees to a selected few.

Leaving the naval service, Jewett entered the merchant marine, later accepting employment in the navy of the States on the Rio Plata. Logs of his voyages to the Falkland Islands and Antarctica are among the bases for claims by Argentina to a sector in the south seas and the circumpolar continent.

On September 7, 1822, the Brazilian Independence Day, David Jewett was in the harbor of Rio de Janiero, flying the American flag on a ship which he owned, named "Maipo." Dom Pedro himself bought the vessel, renamed it the "Caboclo," and engaged the services of Captain Jewett to command the corvette. The first foreign officer to be commissioned in the Brazilian navy, Jewett was soon named Vice Admiral and held that rank at the time of his death at Rio in 1842.

Aside from command of different vessels, and occasional shore duty, he was sent to the United States to bring back some frigates being constructed here, again for the purchase of ordinance and munitions, and still again to oversee construction of a steam vessel. He also came north on sick leave at least twice.

Jewett enjoyed the personal esteem of the Emperor and was recognized for his ability as a training officer and disciplinarian. His portrait shows him wearing no less than four medals and orders of the Empire.

During one visit to the United States, he was knighted in Washington Commandery, Knights Templar, at a meeting in New London, where it convened at 6 o'clock in the morning on October 18, 1826. He had been made a Mason and passed in Wooster Lodge, No. 10, at Colchester decades earlier, on August 7, 1793, and was the first brother to be raised at the institution of Uriel Lodge, No. 24, then at Tolland, on the following night.

Under date of November 3, 1826, David Jewett was elevated to the Sublime Dignity of Deputy Grand Inspector General by DeWitt Clinton, Sovereign Grand Commander, and clothed with the powers and authority of Representative in and for the Brazilian Empire, of the Sovereign Grand Consistory at New York (Cerneau). He was instructed to elevate seven Masons through the degrees up to and including the 32°, and then to establish a Grand Provincial Committee of Sublime Princes of the Royal Secret. When all conditions were met, and a charter issued for a Grand Council, S.P.R.S., in Brazil, Jewett would lose the individual and absolute powers delegated to him, and revert to the status of Grand Representative.

The brother who was to deliver the patent died of yellow fever and his personal effects were sold in New York. The warrant fell into the hands of a tradesman who displayed it in his shop window. A Mason saw it, bought it, and returned to the Supreme Council, when it was sent along to the designee. For that reason it was not invoked until 1832, in which year a Brazilian became Chief of the Grand Council with Jewett as his assistant.

Before this time several "Rites" had been brought into Brazil but did not endure. Dom Pedro himself was a Mason but suppressed the order soon after he became the Emperor. He later relented, perhaps being influenced to some extent by David Jewett. As a believer in strict Freemasonry, Jewett had opposed the attempt to inject politics into the fraternity. When efforts were made to conciliate and consolidate elements with opposing ideas the plan did not have Jewett's approval.

In the last 150 years Freemasonry has come a long way forward in Brazil. The Republic is the greatest in area, in population, and in resources among all the nations of the South American continent. The Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite is in correspondence with our own Northern Jurisdiction of the United States, and forty others. Craft Masonry is organized under Grand Lodges in twenty states of the Federation. A Masonic observance of the sesquicentennial was well justified.

Jewett Biographies In Herringshaw's Encyclopedia

JEWETT, C. C., lawyer, jurist, was an early emigrant to Arkansas. He was appointed a justice of the United States court for that territory. After it became a state he continued on the bench as judge of the United States district court.

JEWETT, CHARLES COFFIN, bibliographer, author, was born Aug. 12, 1816, in Lebanon, Maine. He was a bibliographer who was the first superintendent of the Boston public library; and the author of Facts and Considerations Relative to Duties on Books; Notices of Public Libraries in the United States; and Construction of Catalogues. He died Jan. 9, 1868, in Braintree, Mass.

JEWETT, FREEBORN G., jurist congressman, was born in 1790 in New York. He was a member of the assembly of that state in 1826 and 1827; was a representative in congress from 1831 to 1833; and from 1846 to 1856 was a judge of the supreme court of New York. He died Feb. 23, 1858.

JEWETT, GEORGE BAKER, educator, author, was born Sept 11, 1818, in Lebanon, Maine. He was a New England educator whose principal works were Baptism Versus Immersion; and Critique on the Greek Text of the New Testament. He died June 9, 1886, in Salem, Mass.

JEWETT, HUGH J., lawyer, congressman, was born about 1812, in Deer Creek, Md. He studied law in Cecil county; left Maryland in early manhood and removed to Ohio, where he practiced his profession; held no public position until 1872. He was elected a representative from Ohio to the forty-fourth congress; and soon resigned to accept the position of president of the Erie Railroad company, which position he still fills.

JEWETT, ISAAC APPLETON, lawyer, author, was born Oct. 17, 1808, in Burlington, Vt. He was a successful lawyer of Cincinnati, and later of New Orleans. He was the author of Passages in Travel; and The Appleton Memorial. He died Jan. 14, 1853, in Keene, N. H.

JEWETT, JOSHUA H., lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 12, 1812, in Deer Creek, Md. He was elected a representative from Kentucky to the thirty-fourth and thirty-fifth congresses.

JEWETT, LUTHER, clergyman, physician, congressman, was born Dec. 24, 1772, in Canterbury, Conn. He was for fifteen years a member of the Vermont legislature; and was a representative in congress from Vermont from 1815 to 1817. He died March 8, 1860, in St. Johnsbury, Vt.

JEWETT, MILO PARKER, educator, author, was born April 27, 1808, in St. Johnsbury, Vt. He was an educator who was the first president of Vassar college, and the author of Baptism; and The Relation of Boards of Health and Intemperance. He died June 9, 1882, in Milwaukee, Wis.

JEWETT, SARAH ORNE, author, was born Sept. 3, 1849, in South Berwick, Maine. She is a popular writer of Maine. She is the noted author of Old Friends and New; Play-Days; Country By-Ways; Deephaven; The Mate of the Daylight, and Friends Ashore; A Country Doctor; A Marsh Island; A White Heron, and Other Stories; The Story of the Normans, an historical work; The King of Folly Island, and Other People; Betty Leicester, a Story for Girls; Strangers and Wayfarers; A Native of Winby, and Other Tales; The Life of Nancy; and The Country of the Pointed Firs.

JEWETT, SHERMAN SKINNER, foundryman, banker, was born Jan. 17, 1818, in Moravia, N. Y. He decided to confine his attention to the production of stoves of every description, a line of trade then in its infancy. The business rapidly increased until, in 1854, a branch office and warehouse were opened in Chicago, branches in Detroit, Milwaukee, Denver and San Francisco becoming necessary in due course of time. He voted in 1880 in the electoral college for James A. Garfield for president of the United States. As one of the projectors of the elaborate system of public parks in the city of Buffalo in 1868, and a president of the park commissioners since 1879, he displayed his appreciation of an enterprise which has proved a general benefit.

JEWETT, SUSAN W., poet, journalist, author. In 1847 she conducted a juvenile monthly magazine, called the Youth's Visitor. She was the author of The Old Corner Cupboard, containing poems and prose sketches of everyday life.

JEWETT, THEODORE HERMAN, physician, was born March 24, 1815, in South Berwick, Maine. He was professor of obstetrics and diseases of women and children in the medical department of Bowdoin, consulting surgeon to the Maine general hospital, and surgeon of the first Maine district during the civil war. He died Sept. 20, 1878, in Crawford Notch, N. H.

JEWETT, THOMAS L., railroad president, was born about 1810 in Maryland. He was at one time a judge in a state court, but became interested in the construction of the Pan-Handle railroad, and was chosen its president. He died in November, 1875, in New York city.

JEWETT, WILLIAM ORRINGTON LUNT, soldier, lawyer, legislator, was born Dec. 26, 1836, in Maine. He served in the civil war and has been prosecuting attorney of Shelby county, Mo., for two terms; and for two terms was a representative in the Missouri state legislature.

Errata

Mrs. Madeleine Lindsay has several additions and changes she would like to make in the "History of the Jewett Homestead, Chelsea, Mich.," which appeared in the 1973 Year Book, starting on page 34. They are:

Page 38, bottom paragraph: "She was a widow of Theopholis Clark, by whom she had ten children, none by Mr. Jewett," rather than "one by Mr. Jewett."

Page 40, next-to-last paragraph: Jane Barrett Clark is the great grandmother of Mrs. Jane Miller, not Mrs. Madeleine Lindsay.

Page 41, bottom paragraph: "Three children were born to the owners of the Jewett Homestead: Gertrude (died in infancy), Clara Francesca, the second child; and Ada Elizabeth, the third child," not Gertrude, Thomas, and Jane.

Page 42, next to last paragraph: Mrs. Lindsay would like the present-day address of Dr. Lester Jewett's home added. It is 10725 Jerusalem Rd. She adds, "The house was built of cobblestone in 1846, and is still nice."
