DEDICATION

This 1983 Year Book is dedicated to all the ingenious Jewetts in America who have contributed so much to business and industry in this great land.

Two articles in this issue tell the story and history of some Jewett-named articles made in America because of Jewett inventiveness and business acumen. There must be many more.

Greetings From the President to the Members of The Jewett Family of America

Russell E. Jewett

Dear Kinsmen,

It is a pleasure to greet all the members of The Jewett Family of America.

The world is so large and yet so small, that we cannot help but run into a member of our great Family where ever we travel.

NEWS ITEM #1:

A Reunion is scheduled July 21, 1984, at 10 A.M. at the First Congregational Church of Rowley, Mass. This will be a great time to renew old friendships and make some new ones also. You will receive a mailing concerning this in the early Spring of 1984.

NEWS ITEM #2:

In this issue, we are including both the 1982 and the 1983 Board of Directors lists, both the 1982 and 1983 Board Meeting Minutes and both the 1982 and 1983 Treasurer's and Auditor's Reports. This makes our records current.

These pages follow this President's letter, with 1983 records coming ahead of 1982, in groupings of three pages each.

The rest of the Year Book follows normally.

We have a new Treasurer that the members should know about, and his address. The Board reluctantly raised the dues to $10.00 in order to cover many expenses. The Life Membership fee was also raised to $100.00, and new member one time dues and application fee to $12.50.

The members should know of these things currently.

Please keep up your membership in the Association and consider gift memberships (Life or Regular) for other members of your family.

Edna Jewett, our Historian, has some lovely 5-inch square tiles with Jewett Coat-of-Arms emblazoned on them in color. This is a limited edition and the tiles are selling for $7.50 apiece, which includes postage and handling. Any profit will go to The Jewett Family, Inc., coffers.

Please order these from Edna.

Please order extra or past Year Books from Clifford Jewett, our Corresponding Secretary.

Dues are sent to the new Treasurer, Frank Jewett, 3rd.

Addresses of these Officers are on the 1983 Officers and Directors page.

Donations to the Genealogy Fund are also gratefully accepted.

We hope to see you on July 21, 1984. Ipswich, Mass., which is 10 miles away, is celebrating its 350th Anniversary at this time, so there will be much to see and do.

1983 BOARD MEETING AT CONCORD, MASS.

PRESENT: William Jewett, Willard Jewett, Edna Jewett, Frank Jewett II, Russell Jewett, Alan Jewett, Lincoln Jewett, Truda Jewett, Dorothy Jewett Stitt, Frank Jewett III

The meeting was convened by the president, Russell Jewett, at 9:45, at the Colonial Inn, Concord, Mass.

William Jewett asked for a correction of the last minutes. His status was meant to be Regular, not Life, Member.

The treasurer's report was presented and accepted.

The auditor's report was read and accepted.

A motion was made and approved to thank Mrs. Mary Thresher for her work on the genealogy of the Jewett Family of America.

Membership applications will be sent out with the yearbook and the bills. New applications for membership are to be printed by Truda Jewett.

The new approved dues, effective September 19, are:

New Membership	$ 12.50
Annual	10.00
Life	100.00

A By-laws change was approved. The By-laws now read: All power invested in the elected members of the Directors of the Board shall be vested in the Directors for Life.

Sincere thanks and gratitude were offered to Willard Jewett for his help as treasurer from 1965-1983.

Edna Jewett showed the directors tiles that she had had made. The size was 4x4. The agreed upon sale price was $5.00 at the meeting and $7.50 if mailed.

Willard Jewett agreed to have stationery printed for the Reunion. He also will have stationery printed for office use.

A motion was made and accepted to appoint the present directors for the 1983-84 year. Frank Jewett III was elected treasurer to replace Willard.

Frank Jewett II agreed to check on our non-profit status.

Alan agreed to be chairman of the next Reunion to be held in the Rowley/Salem area on July 21, 1984.

Respectfully submitted, TRUDA JEWETT, Secretary

1982 BOARD MEETING AT HAWTHORNE INN, SALEM, MASS.

The Annual Meeting of the Directors of The Jewett Family of America, Inc. was held at the Hotel Hawthorne in Salem, Massachusetts on September 18th, 1982.

The meeting was opened by President Russell E. Jewett. Those present were: Russell E. Jewett; Alan D. Jewett; Dorothy Jewett Stitt; Frank H. Jewett; Albert W. Haley, Sr.; William H. Jewett and Edna P. Jewett.

Minutes of the 1981 Directors' Meeting were read and approved with the addition of the appointment of Willard H. Jewett to Director for Life.

A note from Clifford L. Jewett indicated his willingness to serve for another year.

The Treasurer's report was read and Albert W. Haley, Sr. read the Auditor's report which was accepted.

The resignation of Willard Jewett as Treasurer was read, and it was voted to appoint him as chairman of a committee to find a new Treasurer. Other members appointed by the President were Frank H. Jewett, William H. Jewett and Alan D. Jewett. This committee to act as soon as possible.

On a motion by Albert Haley, Sr., Clifford L. Jewett was appointed Director for Life.

A discussion of the voting powers of Directors for Life resulted in the drawing up of an addition to the by-laws which would be acted on at the next Annual Board meeting in September, 1983. The by-law would read, "All powers vested in the elected members shall be vested in the Directors for Life.

Edna Jewett read from a letter of the work done by Mrs. Thresher on the card file of our material at Essex Institute. At present both card file and genealogical file are in the fire-proof part of the Institute Library. There is much more to be done and a notice of appreciation for donations to the genealogical fund is to be printed in the yearbook.

The President asked us to meet again at or in the vicinity of Rowley on the 11th of October to help formulate plans for the next reunion which will be held in 1984.

Family Gatherings

The Jewett-Pearl Family Reunion was held at the home of Austin and Marion Emmons, Columbia, Conn., on Sunday, July 11, 1982.

The Adams-Jewett Family of Bismarck, N.D. met in July, 1982. The Adams family has made up a history of their family and their connection with the Jewetts — a very nice publication.

Roger Jewett Family Reunion at Pownal,Vt.

There were 13 present at the family reunion on August 13, 1982. Roger writes that Lindy and Chuck brought up 25 lobsters from Salem, and that he and his wife Evelyn provided native fresh corn so that they had a great cook-out on Evelyn's beautiful lawn, surrounded by four of the best flower gardens she has had at Pownal.

Jewett-Pearl Connecticut Family Reunion

The descendants of the late Ebenezer Jewett II and Nancy (Jennings) Jewett held their 44th family reunion Sunday, July 11, 1982 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Austin E. Emmons, Columbia, Conn.

A pot luck dinner was served at 12:30 followed by a short business meeting, and an afternoon of fellowship and lawn games. Historian Marion R. Emmons, resigned. The officers will seek a person for Historian as no one accepted the nomination. The 1983 reunion will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moon, Hampton, Ct. date will be selected by host family. Four marriages, six births, two deaths were reported. We were pleased to have as guests members of the Jewett Family of America from Clinton, Ct.

Secretary of the Conn. group is Mrs. L. Reginald Thayer, 23 Woodbridge Road, Newington, Conn. 06111. All members of the Jewett-Pearl families are welcome to attend the reunions.

A Gathering of Texas Jewetts

A very happy Jewett Family Gathering took place at the Braeburn Country Club in Houston, Texas when James W. and Dorothy Jewett Stitt were "home to Texas" in October, 1982.

Descendants of Harry B. Jewett, Sr., Past Vice President of Texas for the Jewett Family, and their families, totalling 22 men, women and children, enjoyed lunch, love, and conversation on a beautiful Fall Sunday.

Those present include "Uncle Jim and Aunt Dorothy," Dorothy's sister-in-law, Mary (Jones) Jewett, and Mary and Harry Jewett Jr.'s six children and spouses and offspring. Dorothy's brother Harry was out of the city and unable to be present, the only thing to mar the day.

Their children and families included Harry B. Jewett, III, his wife Patti, daughter Shelly and son David, of San Antonio, Tex.;

Also, Syd and Margaret (Jewett) Van Wagner of Navasota, Tex., and their children Gregg, Jeffrey and Sheila;

Also, Charles Edgar and Joanna Jewett of Houston, and their little daughter Katy;

Also, Robert J. and Kathie (Jewett) Shoemaker and their children, Kristi and John, all of Longview, Tex.;

Also, Douglas Eugene and Kathy Jewett of Bryan, Tex.;

Also, Laura Jewett of Houston.

A wonderful day and a wonderful family time.

LIBERTY, THE AMERICA'S CUP RACES, AND FRITZ JEWETT

There were high hopes all summer long over the America's Cup races and America's ability to win and retain the Cup once more, but the victory was not to be.

In September, 1983, Australia II won over Liberty in an exciting series of races off Newport, R.I., and the Cup was taken to "Down Under."

One of our family, George F. "Fritz" Jewett, was involved deeply in the 12-meter sailboat representing America. He was concerned with the financial plans and backing for the Liberty, as well as the races themselves, and was at Newport all summer, helping with the preparations for the races to go on smoothly.

Here are some interesting comments Fritz wrote about the event:

I have been asked by many people if I could do it over again, would I do things differently? My associates and I feel that we put together an excellent program. There were some disappointments but we ended up with an excellent crew led by Dennis Conner and the best of the conventional 12 Meters, Liberty.

Our group is firmly convinced that the designer of Australia II found a loophole in the rule and came up with a radical design which obviously was very successful.

On top of that, the Australians had a very good crew who, in fairness, did an outstanding job.

There is a considerable interest in who will challenge the Australians in Perth in 1987. Frankly, after participating in four America's Cup defenses, I have concluded that that is enough (Interpolation — Mr. Jewett was on the Advisory Committee and Chairman of the Enterprise — Freedom America's Cup Defense in 1980. Freedom won for America).

I will support an American team and I believe that the United States will have a good opportunity to return the Cup to where it belongs.

Congratulations, Fritz, for the great effort.

Win or lose, the Liberty and you and your associates did a magnificent job and all America and the Jewett Family is proud to claim you. We'll win again another time.

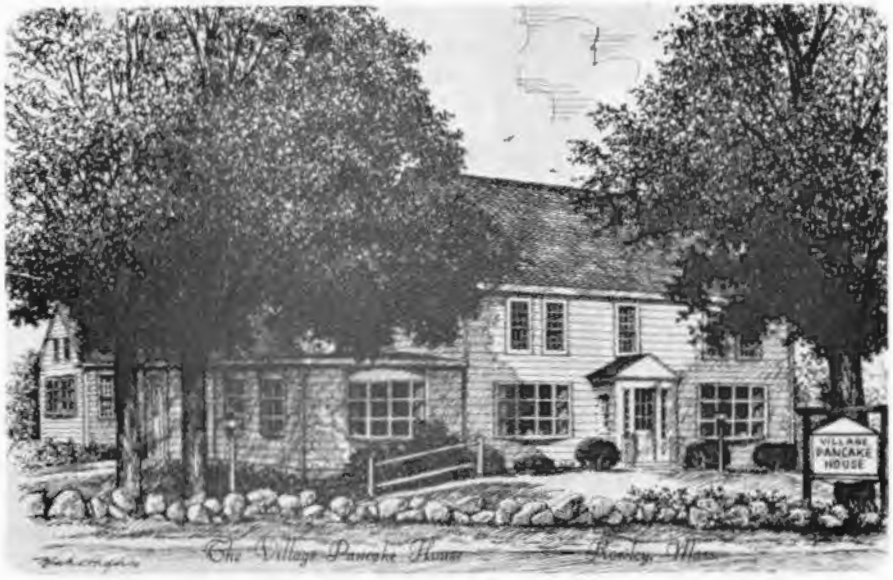
Joshua Stephen Grundy was born December 11, 1982 to Stephen and Cynthia (Jewett) Grundy of Newburyport. Cynthia is a sister of Catherine. They are grandchildren of Edna and the late Everett D. Jewett.

Roger Jewett writes that a son, Jason Ellsworth, was born on Nov. 28, 1982, to his granddaughter, Tammy Ellsworth. She preferred that her son keep her maiden name.

Andrew Charles Jewett was born on May 31, 1983, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edgar Jewett of Houston, Texas.

Brian Douglas Jewett was born on June 8, 1983, to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Eugene Jewett of Austin, Texas.

The two fathers are sons of Harry and Mary (Jones) Jewett, of Houston; grandsons of the late Harry B. Jewett, Sr., of Houston (a past Vice President for Texas of the Jewett Family) and are nephews of James W. and Dorothy Jewett Stitt of Easton, Pa.



THE VILLAGE PANCAKE HOUSE

The Village Pancake House

This home, built by Abraham Jewett, is said to be the earliest house in Rowley, Mass. Reference to the house is found on page 200 in the book, "Rowley, Mass.", by Amos Everett Jewett and Emily Mabel Adams Jewett.

Today its address is corner Routes 1A and 133, Rowley, Mass.

There is a copy of the 1661 Deed of the lands where the Rowley Village Pancake House stands.

MAGNA CHARTA BARONS

In 1925 I printed a list of the Barons who compelled King John to sign the bill of rights, called the Magna Charta. There were twenty-five of them and eighteen of them have descendants and are marked with a *. Fifteen of the eighteen are ancestors of mine and are marked with a †.

These Baronial families intermarried so much that if you are descended from one you probably are from many more, and, worse luck, many of you will find you are descended from King John himself, as I am.

These twenty-five barons were sureties that John would observe the Magna Charta. In a subsequent article I will tell you something about these Barons.

Many of you when you go to England fail to put Runnymede on your list of places to visit.

Runnymede, Where Is It?

It is an island in Thames between Staines and Windsor Castle, seventeen miles southeast of London. Windsor is twenty-two miles out of London.

A good many years ago I, with my daughter, Bonnie, now Mrs. H. G. Welpton, went out from London on bicycles to Windsor Castle and through the Great Park, then over to Stoke Pogis to visit the graveyard of the old church immortalized by Gray who wrote Gray's Elegy. On the tombstone which he erected at his mother's grave he tells of the family and his mother, and said: "One alone, meaning himself, was so unfortunate as to survive her." And after sitting in the family pew of William Penn we go into the village of Staines and to Runnymede and tried to picture that scene when King John reluctantly signed the Magna Charta on June 15, 1215. Here they were on this beautiful meadowed island King John and his friends were in a tent on one bank of the river, while the Barons were on the flat meadows running over to the other bank. It was an ideal place for the meeting.

Here is a list of the

Of special interest is the reference to Herald's Visitations in 1578, and to the LOCATION of the Harleian Manuscripts: No. 2163, Fol. 76: British Museum.

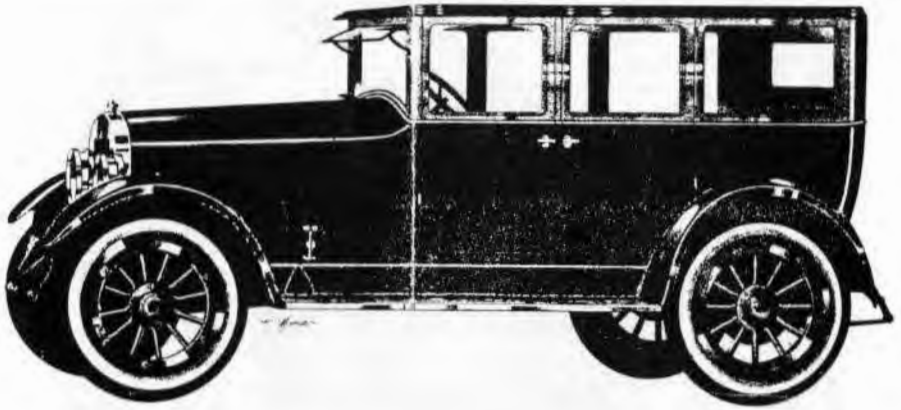
This should help some genealogists who have trouble finding the Coat of Arms.

The crest and motto referred to "opposite" in the top left square is as we know them.

Was it Luck -- or Ability?

Read The Story Of The Jewett Automobile and Harry M. Jewett And Decide For Yourself

For several years in the early 1920's, the Jewett Six automobile named after Harry Mulford Jewett, was one of the well known cars in America. Manufactured by the Graham-Paige Motor Company, it was a four door sedan with a 50 horsepower, six cylinder motor. It sold for $1,395, and more than 40,000 were sold from 1922 to 1925, when it was discontinued and became one of the Paige models.



The Jewett Six was first introduced in 1922 at the National Automobile Show, and was named in honor of Mr. Jewett, the president of the Graham-Paige Motor Company. It was he who was responsible for the success of the company, and he had saved it from possible failure a few years earlier.

An entirely new plant was built to make the Jewett Six, with a capacity of 500 cars daily. At the time it was the largest and most modern plant of its kind in the country, with over a half million square feet of floor space all on one level. Over three acres of glass was used in its construction, allowing adequate light for every department. Three miles of automatic conveyors reduced material handling to a minimum. The loading docks could handle 100 freight cars at one time. Included in the facilities was a large physical and chemical laboratory employing a number of engineers and research personnel.

During an interview on his success by a national magazine, Harry M. Jewett said "I'll tell you a lot of the things that contribute to a man's success are just flukes. As a young engineer I was given the job of completing a difficult drain job because two of my superiors were ill. I completed the project, and was at once hailed as a great engineer. But there were men on that engineering staff who were real engineers; men with far more ability than I had. Luck . . . that's one of the big answers to success."

Capping an earlier brilliant career as an athlete, salesman, engineer and mining operator, Mr. Jewett organized the Paige Detroit Motor Company in 1909. After some initial success manufacturing a 2 cylinder, 3 cycle Paige car, the company encountered sales and production problems, and came very near to bankruptcy. Mr. Paige, the company president since its origin, resigned and Mr. Jewett replaced him. His first step was to close the plant and reorganize its production facilities. With the greatly improved quality of the Paige automobile, confidence in the company was soon restored, and by 1911 all of the company's debts were paid off and the company was on a sound footing. Soon the company was among the first ten in the country, and the Graham-Paige Motor Company continued to operate successfully for many years.

Harry Mulford Jewett, known as "Hal" to his friends, was successfl in just about everything he undertook. As a young man of 15, he was dropped from an Illinois preparatory school because he was far more interested in athletics than in his studies. He was then sent to the preparatory department of Notre Dame where he soon became famous for his athletic exploits. At first he continued an indifferent student, but later became an honor student.

He went on to Notre Dame University where he continued to star in football, crew and track. He was the first Notre Dame athlete to earn three varsity letters in one year. He scored the first touchdown against Michigan, running 110 yards in the effort. And he set a school record in the 100 yard dash, besides being a regular winner in the high jump, the broad jump, and the hop, step and jump.

Mr. Jewett graduated with a degree in civil engineering, and soon joined the Michigan Central Railroad as Assistant Engineer. After some outstanding work for the railroad, he was offered the position of Assistant Divisional Engineer. But instead of accepting what was a very nice promotion, young Jewett resigned. He told his chief "You as chief are getting $6,000 a year. I might never get it. But it's the limit. And if I felt that $6,000 a year was my limit, I would lose all of my ambition. I believe I can earn more than that. So I quit."

He then joined the Detroit News as an advertising salesman, but that career was a brief one. He left to become a coal salesman, but lost that job in the great panic of 1894. He then began to sell coal on consignment for 10¢ a ton. By 1895 he had made a small fortune selling to large operators, and he formed the company of Jewett and Bigelow which later became one of the largest coal operators in the middle west. This very successful career continued for the next 12 years.

But Jewett had developed an interest in the infant automobile industry. He became acquainted with Henry Ford, and in fact bought one of the first cars Ford produced — #7. Mr. Jewett later said "I gave Mr. Henry Ford his first order for an automobile. He picked me out number seven as being a good one and it certainly proved so."

His organization of the Paige Detroit Company in 1909 launched his career in the automobile industry, and he continued as a director of the company until he stepped in as president in 1911.

Harry Mulford Jewett died June 15, 1933 of a sudden heart attack at the age of 62. He left behind an outstanding business record in several fields. His success with the Jewett Six automobile stands as an important achievement in the history of the automobile industry.

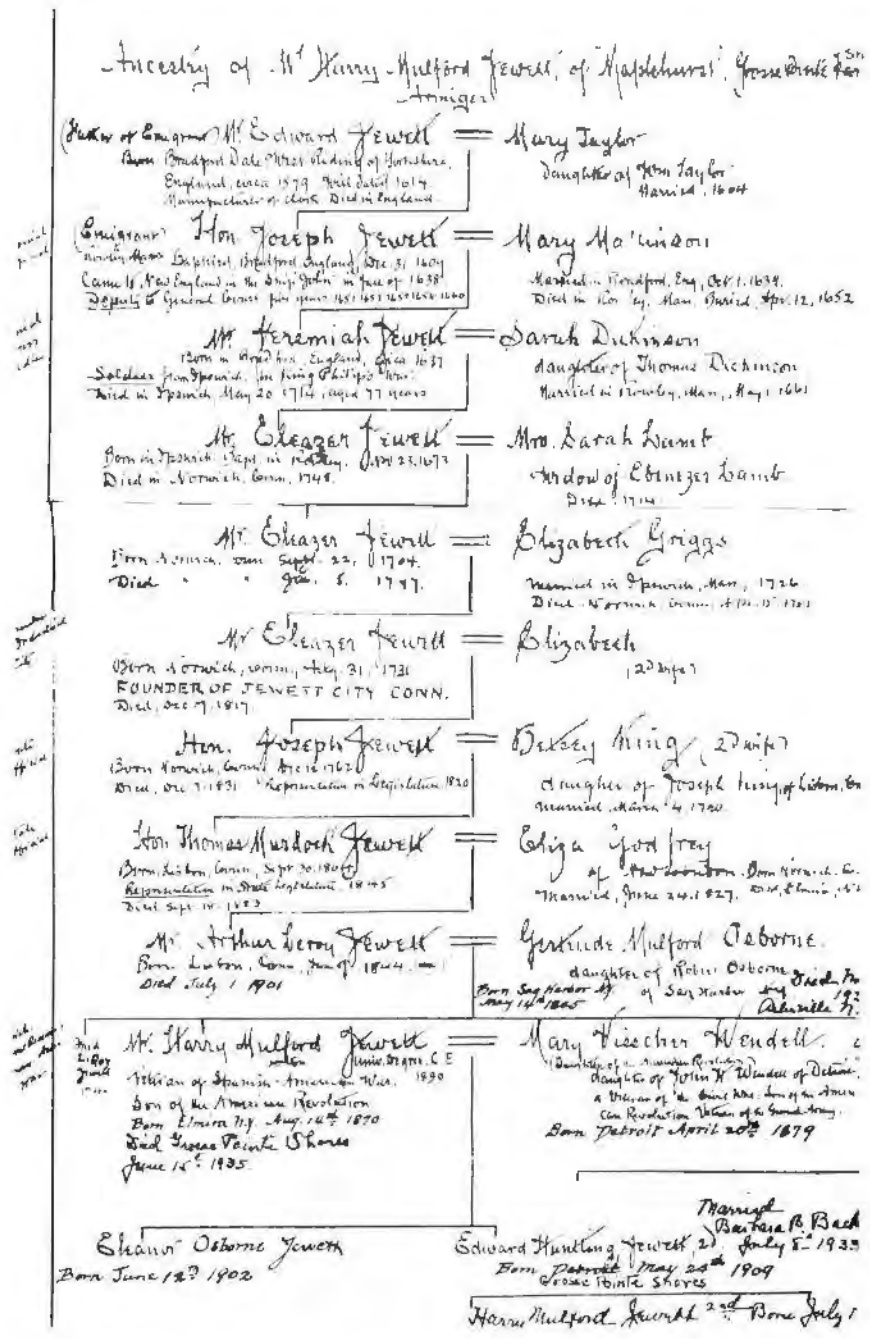
We want to thank Roger Jewett for sending the material for this article; also Harry Mulford Jewett, 2nd for gathering the many clippings from old magazines, newspapers and business records and including the pictures; also Mrs. Harry Mulford Jewett, 2nd, for her kind help in sending copies of the Family Genealogy and the Coat of Arms.

All of this took a great deal of research and effort and time and it is appreciated very much.

Lastly, a great appreciation to James W. Stitt, husband of your Editor, who wrote the article, bringing together all the references mentioned above.



What's in a Name

A Number Of Products, Well Known In Their Day, Have Borne The Jewett Name

Nowadays, new products developed and marketed usually carry the name of the corporation, or a coined name which can be copyrighted to protect it from use by others. We currently see names such as Zerox, Atari, Coleco, Polaroid, Tylenol and Epcot.

But fifty years or more ago, many companies large and small were named after their founder, and their products also bore his name.

Some still flourish today such as Ford, Firestone, Honeywell, Edison, Heinz and Duke.

While perhaps not quite as famous as these household names, there have been a number of products named Jewett after our family members who developed them.

Probably the best known was the Jewett Six automobile, named after Harry Mulford Jewett, president of the Graham-Paige Motor Company. The Jewett Six automobile is covered in detail in a separate article in this issue.

Over 40,000 Jewett cars were sold between 1922 and 1925 when the Jewett was one of the well known names in the automobile industry.

The Jewett Typewriter was invented by George Anson Jewett of Des Moines, Iowa in the 1890's. Mr. Jewett was our President for many years.

Constance Jewett Cory (Mrs. Ace R. Cory) of Spirit Lake, Iowa, the great-granddaughter of Mr. Jewett, has the gold medal the typewriter won in 1900 in the Paris Exposition.

Some time after that, Mr. Jewett sold his typewriter to one of the big typewriter companies of America.

We thank Mrs. Cory for sharing this with us.

The Jewett Refrigerator Company was a pioneer in the development of the refrigerator for the home. Founded in Buffalo, N.Y. in 1849 by John C. Jewett, the company at that time made a wide range of household items from iceboxes and bathtubs to bird cages and spittoons.

One of the company's first products was a foot bath of tin, introduced about 1850. Another early product was the Jewett Water Filter, made for home use.

Mr. John C. Jewett was joined by his son Edgar Boardman Jewett in the 1880's. He was a brigadier general in the army, and after becoming president of the company he was elected mayor of Buffalo in 1894. He was also the first president of the Jewett Family of America.

As iceboxes changed to refrigerators, the Jewett company became a leader in inventing new circulating systems. Its luxury porcelain refrigerators were sold to the leading hotels and to such famous and wealthy persons as John D. Rockefeller, Jr., George Eastman, Marshall Field, Harvey Firestone, Henry Ford and Harold Lloyd.

During World War II, the company began concentrating on refrigerators for health care.

A special Jewett refrigerator for storing blood was selected by the government as its standard and was sent to hospitals and to battlefields all over the world. After the war, private hospitals and laboratories used the blood refrigerator widely.

Another product bearing the Jewett name was the Jewett Piano, at one time a favorite among concert piano players. It was introduced in 1861 by the firm of Allen and Jewett at Leominster, Mass.

Principals in the company were Wade J. Jewett and George A. Allen. The company continued in business through the 1880's, being joined in 1885 by W. P. Jewett and W. G. Jewett, sons of the company founder.

While our information is not complete, we are told that a Jewett Phonograph was manufactured during the late 1880's in Detroit.

The Sherman S. Jewett & Company manufactured a line of heating and cooking stoves in Buffalo, N.Y. during the 1880's and later.

An 1890 catalogue of the company offered the Jewett Laundry Stove, made of cast iron, with four griddles, for $10!

While Sherman S. Jewett was primarily involved in manufacturing stoves, he also found time to serve as president of a local Buffalo bank and also was president of a nearby railroad.

We want to credit with our thanks Windsor Publications, Inc. for permission to reproduce three pages of "Buffalo: Lake City In Niagara Land."

Our information on the Jewett Piano was very kindly supplied by the Leominster Historical Society.

The background information for this article on Jewett products was gathered by Roger Jewett of Pownal, Vermont, and we thank him for his assistance. Mr. Jewett served as president of our family association for many years, is a lifetime member of our board, and remains actively interested in our association.

If any of our readers has information on other Jewett products, we would be pleased to learn about them. Please send to the Editor.

Your Editor thanks James W. Stitt for writing this article.

News Notes

Frank Jewett

Frank Jewett, our new Treasurer, is the son of Frank Harold Jewett, our Second Vice President. Frank is with the Maine Appraisal Service in West Buxton, Me.

We have had several requests for the Frederic Clarke Jewett "History and Genealogy of the Jewetts of America" — 2 volume set. It has been long out-of-print, so if anyone has a set they no longer need, please let us know the price and condition.

After spending nearly four weeks in the hospital, Mrs. Head of Montebello, Ca., is hoping she'll have no more trouble. She now has a pacemaker. The pacemakers are certainly a help for us older folk.

Mrs. Walters of Jekyll Island, Georgia, passed through the town of East Jewett, N.Y. and wonders what family named the place. Can someone help her out?

Our new member, Kathleen Sue (Fairley) Baker, is descended from Maximilian through Ezekiel; Thomas; Ezekiel; Ezekiel; Abel; Abel; Nathan; Abel; Mary Eliza Jane (Jewett) Eye; Ethel (Eye) Fairley; Clare Everett Fairley.

Jim Childers is very busy compiling a genealogy of his line from #533, Aquila Jewett of Littleton, Mass., born there February 20, 1730-31. Jim would like to have it published.

More on The N.Y. Jewetts: Mrs. Cathey of Arizona in 1981, traveled for some months to visit places of her ancestors. In New York State they found that the cemetery where some of them were buried is in Sanford's Corner near Watertown. Sanford's Corner was called Jewett's Corner and there is a bit of confusion now as to the location on that account. More confusion results because there is a Sanford in south N.Y. She was thrilled to find copies of the Jewett Yearbook at the Library in Salt Lake City, especially the 1963 issue. It contains material on her great great grandfather Winchester. His wife Lydia's maiden name was unknown at that time, but Betty Cathey knew it! Lydia's maiden name is Gladwin.

Mrs. Schneider of South Charleston, West Virginia, writes that she now has a steel hip bone, after breaking her hip and spending more than a month in the hospital, but is on the mend and trying to make up for lost time.

From Mrs. H. N. Hodges of Taylorsville, N.C. we hear that the Campbell Clan of Patrick Co., Virginia, has located the grave of Sybil Jewett Campbell, #1540, and they plan to place a marker there. Sybil was born, probably in Pepperell, Mass., January 21, 1770. She married Benjamin Campbell; her line goes back: David Jewett, Nehemiah Jewett, Joseph Jewett, Nehemiah Jewett, Joseph Jewett, and Edward Jewett.

Mrs. Lawrence E. Jewett of Devault, Pa. states that her son, Edward Jewett, is working in Oceanography as is a nephew of Howard Jewett of Florida.

Clare and Ted Herrmann report on their children: Teddy has graduated from Georgetown U. and is headed for Dental School. Suzanne did a year at Wesleyan and is now at Harvard. Leslie is at St. Paul's School in Concord, N.H.

New member, Mrs. Bette Lorraine (Prichard) O'Quinn's line goes back: Alta (Jewett) Pritchard; Charles M. Jewett; Johnson Woodard Jewett; Henry Jewett; Nathan Jewett; Ichabod Jewett; Eleazer Jewett; Eleazer Jewett; Jeremiah Jewett; Joseph Jewett and Edward Jewett.

Austin and Marion Emmons write that they had a wonderful 21-day trip by plane across the United States in 1982 to visit family. It was their first big vacation trip. She has been historian for the Connecticut Jewett-Pearl Family and will be hard to replace.

She is also the official Historian and member of the Storrs Family.

Frank H. Jewett, 2nd, wrote a note on February 1, 1983, from Quartette, Ariz., on his trip across the country to tell us that friends from Washington State with whom they had camped for several years presented them with a package of frozen elk meat. The elk was shot with bow and arrow on Mt. St. Helens. "Good steaks," he said.

James and Dorothy Jewett Stitt went around the world on the Silver Anniversary Cruise of the S.S. Rotterdam for 82 days during the winter and early spring of 1983. They went west this year from New York City, dropping anchor in 26 ports and passing through both the Panama and Suez Canals. Some of the places visited include Columbia, Acapulco, Honolulu, Hong Kong, Shanghai, Singapore, Sri Lanka, Bombay, Cairo, Israel, Athens, Rome, Cannes, Monaco and Monte Carlo, Tangier, Gilbralter, Lisbon, and Madeira, setting foot on all five continents.

Their younger son Tom and his fiancee, Melinda Millheim, joined them at Cairo for the 13-day cruise of the Mediterranian. A wonderful time was had by all.

Chaplin Capt. R. Eric Jewett and Mrs. Dee Jewett attended the dedication of a stained glass window at Mildenhall RAF Chapel October 25, 1982. Charles, Prince of Wales, was the Dedicator.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy R. Jewett have an antique business which has been doing well; they have sold their farm, retaining four acres and the building. He writes: "Everyone wonders why we don't go South for the winter. This is my 75th Wisconsin winter and I think I can stand a few more."

Mrs. Alta Jewett Pritchard of Olympia, Washington, is the only surviving offspring of Charles M. and Clara Jewett. She is 85 years of age, the mother of our member, Bette O'Quinn.

Mrs. Sue Harrer of Gallup, New Mexico writes that she would be glad to have Jewett members stop in to see her when in the vicinity. Her address is: 900 S. Boardman, J-93. Mrs. Harrer has the same gr. gr. gr. grandmother, Sally Jewett, as does Pat Saumell.

This is a photocopy of a very unusual piece of needlework (is it 19th Century?) that Sheila M. Rideout, a collector/dealer, is trying to find the history of. This piece is not for sale now.

It would be published in Mrs. Glee Krueger's next book. She is the author of "New England Samplers to 1840," published by Old Sturbridge Village, and of the catalogue of The Kapnek Collection of American Samplers.

Was it made around the 1876 Centennial time? Could it be an amalgamation of Jewett and Delauney crests? This piece purportedly came out of a house in Weare, N.H.

Did your Grandmother do it???

If you have any information, please write Mrs. A. Edwin Rideout, 128 Minortown Rd., Woodbury, Conn., 06798; or Mrs. Ralph Krueger, 26 Hitchcock Lane, Westport, Conn. 06880.

Boyd David Jewett of Martinez, California would like to know more about his Western Pennsylvania ancestors. His grandfather was David Boyd Jewett, son of John Andrew Jewett. Davis was born in Armstrong Co., Pa. and died in Chico, Cal., May, 1940, aged 86 years.

Our new member Michael Robert Jewett's line goes back: Robert Spencer Jewett, Robert Anson Jewett, John Sanford Jewett, Anson Jewett, Benjamin Jewett, Benjamin Jewett, Benjamin Jewett, Nehemiah Jewett, Joseph Jewett the immigrant and Edward Jewett of West Riding of Yorkshire, England.

It may interest you to see that the first birth reported here; the first three marriages; first four anniversaries; and the first two deaths were reported by Barbara Dorn of Saginaw, Michigan, Barbara is descended from two Jewett lines; Jonathan Jewett Taylor, #6450, and James Jewett, #2035.

Delores Jewett reports that her husband has been promoted to Director of Manufacturing of the Chemical Division for the General Tire and Rubber Co. in Akron, Ohio. He is a Lt. Col. in the U.S. Army Reserves. They have moved to Kent, Ohio, to be near their children who are attending Kent State U. Bruce is a Junior-Senior in accounting and Jennifer is a Freshman in the School of Nursing, aiming for a Flight attendant. Bruce is an instructor at K.S.U. Airport and wants to become a commercial pilot.

Aimie Jewett of Devault, Penna. wonders where the names came from for Jewett, Illinois; Jewett, Ohio; Jewett, New York; Jewett, Maine; Jewett, Texas; Jewett City, Connecticut; Mt. Jewett, Pennsylvania; Mt. Jewett, Colorado; and Jewett Lake, Saskatchewan, Canada.

Our new member, Lorraine C. Sencevicky, CGRS, of Eugene Ore., writes that she has just been accepted into The Mayflower Society. Her Jewett line is included in the lineage that goes back to Gov. Wm. Bradford of Plymouth and the Mayflower. She is descended from Joseph Jewett.

Lorraine has very kindly photocopied for us accounts of Jewetts found in the "Dictionary of Oregon History," and also sent typed copies of abstracts of Jewett land claims found in Vol. II, Donation Land Claims. She further included Jewetts found in the Oregon census for 1860.

Her interest and help is much appreciated and we hope to use some of this as space permits.

There is a Jewett Memorial Highway in Maine, named in memory of Brian Jewett.

MRS. ELIZA YONGE JEWETT WOOTTEN

Mrs. Eliza Yonge (Jewett) Wootten (#4535), is the great grandmother of James Alfred Miller, Jr. of Pine Knoll Shore, N.C. The picture was sent in by him and he has also sent in some genealogical material to bring his line up-to-date.

Mrs. Wootten was a former officer of the Jewett Family of America, Inc. and was the wife of Episcopal Minister, The Reverend Edward Wootten, married on October 27, 1875. They lived in Wilmington, N.C.

News of the Family Jewett-Pearl of Conn.

William W. Pearl, Hampton, Ct. elected Chairman of the Board of Patrons Mutual Insurance Company of Glastonbury, Conn.

Russell and Susan (Emmons) Gray, Voluntown, Conn., were selected as Outstanding Connecticut Farm Couple and presented a certificate at the Conn. State Grange annual session Meriden, Ct. October 1981. They operate a dairy farm and are active in their Grange and Baptist Church and farm and community organizations. They have three young children.

David and Dale (Pearl) De Montigny, Hampton, Ct., were chosen 1981 Volunteers of the Year in Hampton, Ct. They are very active in the Hampton-Chaplin Ambulance Corp.

Mrs. Mary E. (Pearl) Stone, wife of Francis Stone of Swanzey, N.H. formerly of Hampton, Ct., was Mother of the Year for New Hampshire. Her selection was based on over 40 years of volunteer work in her church, civic and other organizations. They have four married children. They went to Salt Lake City, Ut. where she represented the Granite State in National Competition.

Did you know the Iowa Development Comm. is located in the Jewett building, Des Moines, Iowa? The building did belong to the Jewett Lumber Company, owned by George A. Jewett, our past President.

Mason R. Gray, age 7, Voluntown, Ct., member of Ekonk Junior Grange, won a national award for his seed picture in the Junior contest at National Grange annual session in Spokane, Wash. He had won first in Ct. for his age group, in 1981.

Corrections:

Under New Members — James K. Childers' number should be 1245.

On page 15 in the 1982 yearbook — Floyd Clark, Sr. should read Floyd Fair Arnett, Sr. His widow is Wilma Clark Arnett, #11215.

Delete 'Quebec Line' from page 7 — new members.

On page 26, Mrs. J. M. Rackley is not a descendant of Napoleon Bonapart.

Page 25 in the 1981 Yearbook, #291 should read Mague instead of Lahue.

#292 should read Stowe instead of Stone.

1982 Yearbook, page 20 — under corrections, should read Mague, not Lahue.

1982 Year Book, page 7, New Member James K. Childers, number should read #1245.

Queries:

We cannot find the parentage of Jui (sometimes Jew) Jewett. He was from the Albany and Schnectady, N.Y. area — and married Hester _____. Also who was Hester?

Genealogies and Family Histories

Lillie Gertrude Jewett Adams (#8852)

(Notes made in a notebook by a daughter-in-law of Lillie Gertrude Jewett Adams (#8852): Her line goes back; Victor, Nathan, Abel, Abel, Ezekiel, Ezekiel, Thomas, Ezekiel, Maximilian, the immigrant, Edward.)

Willie Mann Adams was born December 8, 1865 at Pella, Marion Co., Iowa. He was married to Lillie Gertrude Jewett on March 29, 1893 at Adel, Ia.

They lived on a farm near Adel for a number of years then moved to Miller, S. Dak. and later to Peirre where Dad Adams worked as watchman at the Indian School. From Peirre they moved back to Adel and farmed there a few years. They moved to Redfield, Iowa for one year during which time they operated a hotel.

They again moved back to Adel and lived there until 1918 when they moved to Underwood, N. Dak. They lived at Underwood until 1931 when they moved to a place near Baldwin.

While living at Underwood, Clarence suddenly took sick and had to be taken to the Bismarck Hospital where he passed away on February 10, 1927.

Another son had passed away while the family lived at Adel on April 15, 1916.

Mother Adams suffered a stroke in May, 1934, and she remained an invalid until her death on April 22, 1937. Her funeral service was held at Underwood where burial was also made.

Mother Adams had been very hard working and self-sacrificing in her devotion to her family.

After Mother Adams died, Madeline kept house for her father and Hillis until Hillis married Alice Larson in 1937. They all lived together until Madeline's marriage to Harold Larson in 1939.

Grandpa continued to live with Hillis and Alice until he passed away. On July 2, 1946, Grandpa suffered a severe stroke from which we hardly expected him to recover.

After that he never was so well any more, various ailments affecting him. He was always able to be up and around until he took real sick the day after Thanksgiving 1948.

His funeral service had to be postponed one day because of the snow-blocked roads. The service was held in the Presbyterian Church in Wilton with the Rev. Carl Nelson of Washburn conducting. Mrs. Lind and Rev. Oyon sang solos. The six sons acted as pallbearers. Burial was made in the Underwood Cemetery. Because of so much snow they had to carry the coffin from the Highway to the cemetery. All the sons and Madeline with their families were able to attend.

Grandpa had always been a willing worker and had been kind and affectionate to his family.

Descendants of Philemon Jewett

Douglas Anderson of Greenwich, Conn., tells us about #6049, Philemon Jewett, who was adopted by his maternal aunt, Lucy Stark, wife of Charles Scranton, and his name became Jewett Philemon Scranton. (His actual mother thus became his maternal aunt).

He married Alice Scranton in October, 1874, and they had two children — the late Jewett Hamilton Scranton (who had no descendants), born October 4, 1875, and my maternal grandmother, Katherine, born December 15, 1877. She died in 1969.

Katherine married Dr. Alexander Crane Eastman on June 7, 1905, in Glastonbury, Conn. of which union my mother Alice Scranton Eastman was born July 26, 1906 in Southboro, Mass.; Hamilton Crane Eastman was born September 21, 1908 and Rebecca Eastman in 1910.

My mother married Lloyd D. H. Anderson on June 23, 1928 in Springfield, Mass., where I was born on August 23, 1929. My father died in 1964 and my mother in 1979. I married Elizabeth Bartram Radley on September 20, 1969 and we have a daughter, Katherine Scranton. My uncle Hamilton Eastman married Tulane Collins but has no children. My aunt, Rebecca Eastman, married Dr. John E. Harris, who died in 1969, and has three sons and seven grandchildren.

THE FIRST CHURCH IN ROWLEY

The First Church in Rowley was organized December 3, 1639, the fifth church in Essex County. Mr. Ezekiel Rogers, the founder of the town, was elected its Pastor with Mr. John Miller as Assistant, Humphrey Reyner as Ruling Elder, and Maximilian Jewett and Thomas Mighill as Deacons.

The church was without a called pastor from 1775 to 1882.

In 1777 the church, which was at that time located on the site of the present Center School, was struck by lightning damaging the steeple, but not igniting the building or the town's gunpowder stored there.

This is the fourth meeting-house, the first on present site. It was built in 1842 by Mark R. Jewett on the land of Rev. Willard Holbrook, a former pastor, in whose ministry the Sabbath School was formed.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Main & Hammond Streets, Rowley, Mass.

First Church in Rowley is the Mother Church of: Bradford (1669), Boxford First Church (1702), Groveland (1727), Georgetown (1732), Boxford Second Church (1736), and Linebrook (1749).

The bell was a gift of Hon. Jonathan Phillips, a descendant of Mr. Samuel Phillips, the second pastor. It was erected in December 1851 and weights 1687 pounds. The clock was a gift of David E. Smith in 1902.

Jewett Family Genealogy Location and Fund

The records of the Jewett Family of America, Inc., are in Essex Institute Library at Salem, Mass.

The Genealogy Fund of the family is a continuing fund, made possible by donations of members and friends. The money is used to further the genealogical knowledge of the Jewett Family and catalogue it.

Your gift is most appreciated.

Also much appreciated is our capable and respected genealogist, Mary G. Thresher, who helps in every way she can.

She wrote recently to say, "The Jewett file cabinet has been removed to the second floor in the fire proof section of Essex Institute.

"All cards have been filed.

"There are still many unfinished folders and Year Books to be catalogued."
