DEDICATION

This 1991-1992 issue of the Jewett Family of America Year Book is dedicated to Edna P. Towne Jewett, who is now our Historian Emeritus.

In 1950, when the mantle of leadership as Executive Secretary, descended from Amos Everett Jewett to his son, Everett Douglas Jewett, Edna was right there to help her husband.

For over 25 years, she assisted in every way, from collecting Jewett data to helping write and print the Year Book.

When Everett Douglas passed away, her sincere devotion to the Jewett Family never faltered, and over the years, she has answered pleasantly every call for assistance, information, and/or encouragement.

She has been Corresponding Secretary, Historian, and President of the Jewett Family and is a Life Member of the Board.

She is a devoted Mother.

It is with great appreciation that we thank this Lady.

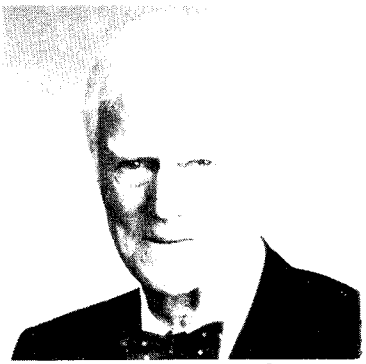
Greetings from the President to the Members of the Jewett Family of America

Notes from your President's 'Mac SE' September, 1992



Frank G. Jewett, Jr.

Greetings!

Again it is wonderful to say 'hello' to our kinfolk throughout the United States and Canada.

Much has been accomplished, since I last wrote to you, but much more has yet to be done. Let me briefly review the progress.

First, thank you, DOROTHY STITT, for this fine Yearbook!

TED HERRMANN has made a good start towards producing the next volume(s) of the "History of the Jewetts in America", to wit:

Ms. ALICIA WILLIAMS, a well-known Genealogist, has been engaged to direct the collection of data and its development into an accurate, readable, and complete historical genealogy.

Our Historian, EDNA JEWETT, has completed the copying of the hundreds of records that she has assembled over years. These are now being entered into a computer program which will be the nucleus of the finished History.

TED HERRMANN has turned part of his attention to canvassing our kinfolk for funds to support our History project. This is a very important effort and its success will depend largely on the response from you, the members, who are the Jewett Family of America.

Frankly, I am disappointed in the progress of certain phases of our project. This is mostly my own fault, because I did not push them harder, earlier. A key to our success is good communication among us all. I had expected to have an informative, regular, and low-cost newsletter up and going by now, but I did not reckon with the intricacies of the I.R.S. LEE JEWETT PETRY is ready, but, TED LORANZ has met one hurdle after another in his quest for non-profit status to enable us to receive tax deductible gifts and lower mailing rates for our history/genealogy project. This has delayed our efforts to expand our data collection through State and regional centers, and, a concerted fund drive. But we are still working on it and hope for success soon.

So let each of you be your own selfstarter. Renew your own memberships, add children and grandchildren who are not now enrolled. Send generous gifts to our "History" fund. We need the financial help. And volunteer your time and talents to being key data collectors in your own area. To produce another History volume that we can all be proud of, we need help from each and everyone of you. Just drop me a line, or give me a ring as to how you think you can help.

Frank

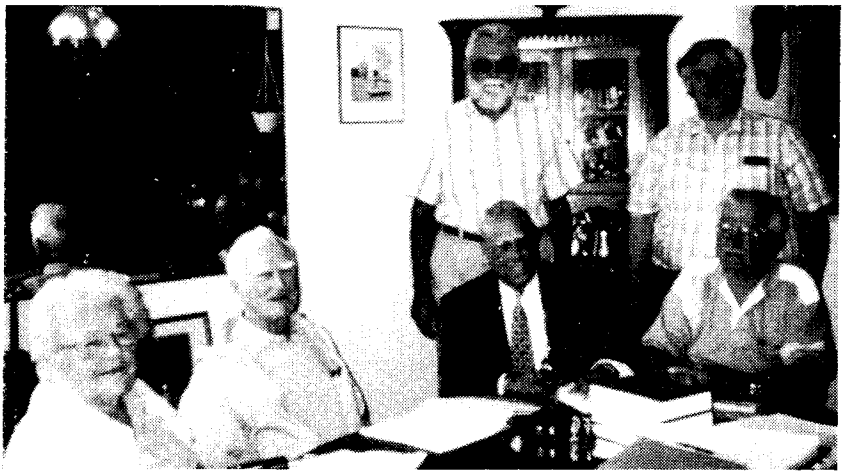
Jewett Family of America, Inc. Board meeting to be announced.

Minutes of the Board of Directors Meeting of The Jewett Family of America, Inc.



The weather just didn't cooperate on the blustery Saturday morning in October. Planned to be held on the flybridge of Jim & Nancy Jewett's yacht Ulida, the rainy morning pushed our group to nearby Groton, CT. Present at the 1992 meeting were Edna P. Jewett, Historian Emeritus; Frank Jewett, President; James R. Jewett, Treasurer; Theodore V. Herrmann, First Vice President; Alfred Loranz, Corresponding Secretary; Roland C. Jewett Jr. Missing from photo is Natalie T. Bruce, newly elected Recording Secretary.

— Weather conditions required that the place of the annual Board Meeting of The Jewett Family of America, Inc. held on September 19, 1992, be moved from the flybridge of the "Ulida" in Noank, CT to the home of Nancy and Jim Jewett at 114 Spyglass Circle, Groton, CT.

— President Frank Jewett called the meeting to order at 11:15 AM. Board members present were: Frank Jewett; Theordore V. Herrmann; Roland C. Jewett, Jr.; Edna P. Jewett; James R. Jewett; Alfred B. Loranz.

— Frank Jewett asked for a moment of silence for the remembrance of the lives and work of Roger Jewett, Albert Haley, Edward Douglas Jewett, Roland Jewett, Edith Jewett Marvin Herrmann and other members past.

— The Secretary's minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

— The Treasurer's report was read and approved on motion of Roland C. Jewett, Jr.

— Progress on the preparation of volume III of History and Genealogy of the Jewetts of America was reviewed by Ted Herrmann, who displayed weighty data printouts prepared by our genealogist, Alicia C. Williams, with safety copies furnished to him on a monthly basis. Ms. Williams, who had planned to be with us at the Board meeting, was not able to attend because of some logistical difficulties. A more detailed written report will be submitted to the Board shortly.

— Discussion was held concerning the reasons for establishment and any restrictions on the use of the monies in the "Lifetime Membership" account and the "Edgar B. Jewett Genealogical Fund". The Corresponding Secretary will research the records and report to the Directors any findings on this subject.

— After discussion, it was moved by Roland C. Jewett, Jr. and seconded by Alfred B. Loranz to roll the "Lifetime Membership" account and the "General Edgar B. Jewett Genealogical Fund" from Fleet Bank CDs into the Galaxy Intermediate Bond Fund, as separate accounts, on the recommendation of James R. Jewett to improve the yield.

— The Board adjourned at 12:45 PM for lunch at the Lorelei restaurant on the Thames river in Groton accompanied by family members and guests.

— Upon reconvening at 3:00 PM, the resignation of Gail M. Lane from the office of Recording Secretary and the Board of Directors was accepted with regret.

— The resignation of Edna Jewett from the office of Historian was accepted with regret. The Board of Directors unanimously bestowed the title of Historian Emeritus on Edna Jewett in recognition of her service and devotion to The Jewett Family of America, Inc.

— President Frank G. Jewett, Jr. appointed a 1992 nominating committee consisting of: Ted Herrmann; Edna Jewett; Roland C. Jewett, Jr.

The following Board Members and officers were nominated and elected unanimously:

President:	Frank G. Jewett, Jr.	Wayzata, MN

— President Frank G. Jewett, Jr. Appointed a 1993 nominating committee consisting of: Boyd Jewett; Gregory Jewett; Natalie T. Bruce.

— Ted Loranz' report on the status of the application for non-profit status with IRS was reviewed and it was determined that we should be able to file our application by mid-October. Conversations with the IRS indicate that it normally takes 30-60 days for an application to be processed.

— Discussion was held concerning changes in the By-Laws necessary to come into compliance with the IRS definition of "non-profit" organizations in order to receive an official letter of determination on nonprofit status. Official non-profit status will allow contributors tax benefits on their contributions to the Jewett Family of America, Inc. Roland C. Jewett moved and James R. Jewett seconded the motion to add the following to the By-Laws:

CORPORATE PURPOSES

The Jewett Family of America, Inc. is organized exclusively for educational and literary purposes as defined under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code or the corresponding section of any future federal tax code.

Terms expiring 1995: Frank G. Jewett, Jr.; Theodore V. Herrmann; Roland C. Jewett, Jr.; Alfred B. Loranz; James R. Jewett.

It was determined from a previous conversataion with Dorothy Jewett Stitt, that the 1991-92 yearbook will be ready for mailing during November - December, 1992. The dues notice will be provided by the Treasurer, James R. Jewett, and will consist of a combination dues notice and membership card for 1993. Consistent with his recommendation that a JFA Directory be distributed to members of the family society, Mr. Herrmann agreed to prepare the opening remarks and table of contents for this directory. The information will be furnished to Ted Loranz and Natalie Bruce for execution. Natalie Bruce will investigate the costs and logistics involved in the printing and inclusion in the yearbook mailing of the directory of the membership of The Jewett Family of America, Inc. It was also determined that there will be statements in the yearbook concerning the following:

Notice that we can no longer afford to send yearbooks to those who have not paid their dues. Starting in 1993 yearbooks will only be sent to active members.

Notice that a limited supply of Jewett notepaper @ $3.00 per 25 sheets, Jewett Tiles @ $5.00 and the two volume set of History and Genealogy of the Jewetts of America @ $85.00 are available on a first come first served bases.

Notice that we are in the process of applying for official non-profit status and expect to receive a determination from the Internal Revenue Service around the first of 1993. This will allow tax deductibility for contributions to The Jewett Family of America, Inc.

NEXT FAMILY REUNION DATE SET FOR 1996

To coincide with the 510th anniversary of the granting of the right to bear arms of Henry Jewet by King Henry VII on July 5, 1486, this date in 1996 has been identified by the Board as our next formal national reunion date. We will also celebrate the publication of volume III of History and Genealogy of the Jewetts of America.

— Theodore V. Herrmann Proposed that a JFA gold lapel pin be designed and manufactured and exhibited samples from several suppliers. Several uses were proposed, including use as incentive for contributions by members to support the publishing of volume III of History and Genealogy of the Jewetts of America.

— The President thanked Nancy and James R. Jewett for their hospitality in offering their home for the annual Board of Directors meeting.

— There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned 7:00 PM.

Respectfully submitted, Alfred B. Loranz, Secretary Pro-tem

How would you like to tour across America in a fine old automobile with the JEWETT name emblazoned on the radiator cover and tire cover?

Here is your chance to become the owner of this once great pride of our family.

Now available is this 1923 JEWETT 6 cylinder, 4 door, convertible phaeton. It has wood wheels, chrome plated radiator, and 2 side-mounted spare tires. 40,000 of this model were made between 1923 and 1925 and of these, only 15 remain, according to the Jewett Collectors Club of West Virginia. This auto was repainted 10 years ago, and has a companion model available for parts.

It will be advertized soon in Hemings Motor News at the asking price of approximately $20,000, but the present owner wants to give members of the Jewett family a first option. Any interested parties should contact:

LETTER FROM THE TREASURER

1 October 1992

Dear Kinsmen,

Since taking over the treasurer's job last year, I have changed our annual report to a fiscal year running from 1 January to 31 December. This was done to simplify our reports to the IRS on our applications for a non-profit status.

The above change, along with my taking over the job from Edward Jewett, has resulted in the unusually lengthy Treasurer's Report this year. Next year's report will cover our financial activity from 1 July 1992 to 30 June 1993.

I have enjoyed my task as your treasurer this past year, and sincerely hope that I have lived up to your expectations.

Wishing you all the best for the comming year.

REMEMBERING AMOS EVERETT JEWETT

by His Daughter-in-Law, Edna Jewett

One day I woke up to the fact that the person who had to write about Amos Everett Jewett is me. No one else is here to do it. He is number 9093 in the genealogy, on page 951. He was born in Ipswich, MA, and lived there.

I first met him shortly after graduating from the Newburyport High School in 1924. It was a family picnic at Crane's Beach on Labor Day: His son, Everett Douglas, and I were keeping company and I was invited; there were daughters and children too many to count, all having a beautiful time.

Everett Douglas Jewett and I were married July 2, 1925, moved into the house next door in the following April with the new baby, the first "Jewett" grandchild. Pa (Amos Everett) was thrilled and had much fun with the boy.

At that time Pa had a used-book business with the office in a shop by the side of his house and most of the books were in the big barn. The shop was small, but when he was a young man, five others worked there with him making heels for the various shoe companies.

After the heel business, Pa started an express to Boston from Rowley, by train. He took goods made in Rowley and farm produce to market, such as corn, vegetables, wild berries, apples and even frog's legs which the local boys caught. He brought back all kinds of material, shopping for the good housewives of Rowley, and barrels of leather for the shoe shops.

His education was brief-four years in the little school just down the street. But his writings did not show any lack of learning. Besides most of the Historical Booklets, he wrote a history of Rowley and published Early Settlers of Rowley, improving the work of George B. Blodgett. All this and he was Secretary and Treasurer of The Jewett Family of America from 1912 until he died Sept. , 1950.

Pa was instrumental in obtaining the Platts-Bradstreet House for the Historical Society; and the State markers, at the cemetery and at the fulling mill, were worded by him.

This is just a little bit about Amos Everett Jewett, but, now, I feel better having said it.

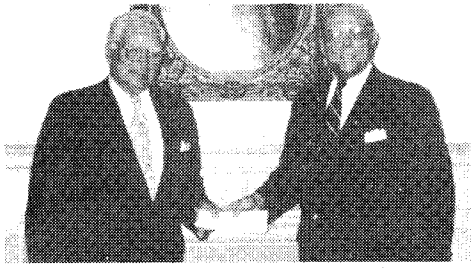
OPENING GUN IN JEWETT VOLUME III FUND RAISING CAMPAIGN

C. Lincoln Jewett presents his check for $1,000 to Theodore V. Herrmann, First Vice President, of the Jewett Family of America which is publishing the new genealogical treatise. The first two volulmes of JEWETTS OF AMERICA were published in 1908. Volume III is being prepared now. The Family hopes all Jewett decendants will contribute to this worthwhile work by sending a check in any amount to "Jewett Family of America/VOLUME III", JFA, 244 Chestnut Street, Englewood, NJ 07631. There is a great need for financial help. Thank you.

To avoid being left out of VOLUME III, completed Jewett questionnaires should be mailed as soon as possible to 18 Martin's Cove Road, Hingham, MA 02043.



C. Lincoln Jewett presents check for $1,000 for 3rd Genealogy to Theodore Herrman

VOLUME III PROGRESS REPORT: 500 PAGES!

from Ted Herrmann

Progress on the preparation of Volume III was reported to the Board by Ted Herrmann at Groton, CT, on September 19th. He displayed some weighty data printouts prepared by our genealogist, Alicia Williams, who sends safety copies to him and Recording Secretary, Ted Loranz, on a monthly basis. Ms. Williams had planned to be at the Board meeting, but was not able to attend because of logistical difficulties.

Based on the current rate of repsonse, with Jewett questionnaires arriving almost daily until recently, we anticipate that VOLUME III will run to over 500 pages by the time it goes to the printer.

It is imperative that all those who wish to have their family members included in this distinguished treatise, send in their completed questionnaires if they have not yet done so.

It is equally important that we contact other Jewett decendants who have not yet sent in their questionnaires, and vigorously encourage them to do so.

The value of this book will be influenced by it's completeness, and that is everbody's job.

Call a loved one now, while you are thinking of it. And tell them to send pictures and include stories of achievement and contributions toward printing The Genealogy to our society with their completed questionnaires.

JEWETT DRUG CO.

Sent by Willard Jewett

John S. Jewett

My wife and I had a most pleasant experience on our last Florida trip. My older brother, Gleason W. Jewett of Kingsland, Texas, told me sometime ago of finding a Jewett Drug store in Lakeland, Florida, and he had visited with the then owners of the store.

I had to find out more, so off to Lakeland we went and found the present Jewett Drug store on Lakeland Hills Blvd in the hospital and medical complex area.

The store owner now is Tommy Burry, and he was the most co-operative person imaginable. He told us all he knew of John Sandford Jewett who was the original owner of the drug business and furnished us with pictures, newspaper articles and stories which the good folks of Lakeland still teli about Mr. Jewett.

John Sandford Jewett was born in Wilmington, C.C and moved to Ocala, Florida in 1888. He came to Lakeland in 1911 and bought the then existing drug store at 101 N. Kentucky Avenue on the 15th of September that year. Thus was founded the Jewett Drug Co.

Mr. Jewett received his pharmaceutical degree at Auburn University Polytechnic Institute. His father was William L. Jewett and his mother was Ann Sandford Jewett. Mr. Jewett's wife was Lucille Ansley. They had three children; Mrs. G. Wells and Mrs. C.L. Bradford, both of Atlanta, Georgia and a son, John Sandford Jewett, Jr., of Frankfort, Kentucky.

Mr. Jewett was long active in Lakeland's civic affairs operating his store for 33 years before taking on a partner in 1944.

He served as President of the Rotary Club, President of the Florida Pharmaceutical Association and was a member of the All Saints Episcopal Church. In a 1944 interview he reflects about Lakeland when he moved there-"it was a dusty town of 3700 residents - we merchants paid 50¢ each day to have the streets watered to keep down the dust." His store was on the corner of Kentucky Ave., and Main Street (see picture).

His fellow merchants of Kentucky Avenue were Weaver's barbershop; Edisonia theater with news stand in front; C.A. Owens dry goods store; Clough shoe store; Hub clothing store; Nuna Patton's, millinery shop; Lufsey's confectionary store; Monk's book store; J.D. Lovell's haberdashery; Stephens's jewelery and Bate's drygoods store. On Main Street, a drygoods store operated by J.W. Chiles and son; W.P. Pillman's grocery store; the Post Office; Lake Pharmacy; Lakeland State Bank; a grocery store conducted by E.G. Tweedell, and a furniture store operated by W.A. O'Daniel and sons.

Mr. Jewett died October 25, 1958 at the age of 77, but he is still well remembered, and, in the short time that we were there in the present store, we met customers all of whom spoke very highly of him. (I'm sorry to report that the picture that we took of the present day store did not come out so you will have to go see it for yourselves).

The Jewett Construction Company of Raymond, NH, owned by Edward Jewett, our past treasurer and son of Edna and the late Everett Jewett, is the main contractor for a new passport-processing center for the U.S. State Department located at Portmouth, NH.

The building, being renovated presently, was formerly the main "exchange" for the former Pease Air Force Base.

The 48,000 square foot building must be fully operational by the first week of November. Asked about this, Ed replied, "It's not 'Can we do it?' We will do it!"

We know you will, Edward.

FAMILY GATHERINGS

CONNECTICUT PEARL FAMILY REUNION AUGUST 2, 1992

by Marion R. Emmions

The descendants of Maria Jennings Jewett (# 3273), and John Porter Pearl through their son, the late Austin E. Pearl, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moon, Parsonage Road, Hampton, Ct.

A delicious pot luck dinner and afternoon of fellowship was enjoyed by members from New England.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Pearl, Mulliken, Michigan, who were able to take their vacation to visit this area, and attend the reunion for the first time.

Many members of the family attended the 10:00 a.m. service at the Congregational Church where for generations the Jewett and Pearl family have worshipped. Eleanor Moon has been a volunteer organist for over 45 years at this country church on Main Street overlooking the valley.

Members of the family are very active throughout the many organizations in Hampton.

The officers continue as last year with Henry Moon, President.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hall's son-in-law was in Spain to compete in the archery contest at the Olympic Games.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA
JEWETT FAMILY REUNION
by Boyd Jewett

On Sunday, March 15, 1992, the below named "Jewett's" met for what is believed to be the first JFA family reunion in Northern California. An informal meeting was held in the Metropolitan Airport, Sacramento, in honor of the visit to this area by JFA President Frank Jewett and his wife Betty. Frank and Betty had spent the previous two weeks visiting friends and relatives in Arizona, Southern California and the Santa Rosa area of Northern California. Before leaving Sacramento on Wednesday, March 18th, they were to visit other friends and kinsmen and spend one night in Yosemite National Park.

At the airport to greet the President and his wife were John W. and Ruth Wattenberger of Carmichael, Tom and Joy Haas of Woodland, their daughter Katie and her husband Dave Sawaya of Rochline, Truman and Virginia Jewett of Brentwood.

Also, Gary and Sherry Jewett of Williams, their daughter Linda Jewett of Sacramento, Marion N. "J" Cassell of Davis, and Boyd "Dave" and Arlene E. Jewett of Camp Connell.

1991 - PENNSYLVANIA JEWETT FAMILY REUNION
by Josephine Jewett Dillon, Secretary

The 68th annual reunion of the family of Nathan Rodney (RN #10511) and Agnes Silome Jewett of Susquehanna County was held August 4, 1991, at Pennbrook Picnic Grove, Factoryville, PA. Thirty-five family members and guests enjoyed a covered dish dinner and afternoon of fellowship.

President Bill Nash presided at the business meeting and plans were made to hold the 69th reunion in 1992 at Merryall Park Campground near Wyalusing, PA. If it proves satisfactory, we will meet there again for our 70th reunion in 1993. Since we are striving for a large attendance in 1993, we want people to become acquainted with the new location.

Our winter letter sent in January 1992, included the Jewett Family Questionnaire for Jewett Family of America Volume III and an application for membership in the Jewett Family of America. We are hopeful of a good response.

We also reported on an informal summer meeting with President Frank Jewett and his wife from Wayzata, MN. They were on their way to the Jewett Family of America, Inc. Board Meeting at Rowley, MA. They stopped in Binghamton, NY and met with President Bill Nash and several other family members. Those in attendance had an enjoyable evening and appreciated the chance to visit with the Jewetts from Minnesota.

NEWS NOTES

We have a number of Jewetts who are ministers. Stephen Jewett of Lake City, MI tells us of the Reverend Lloyd and Pat Jewett of Boon, MI who had a family Bible School in August, 1992, at the Boon Baptist Church.

The theme was, "Busy Bees for Jesus" and the meetings were in the evening for one week.

Another Jewett, the Reverend Bruce Jewett of Jasper Bible Church in Jasper, MI, held the Adult Bible Class, speaking to the title of, "Removing the Strife from Your Life."

A 'NEWSLETTER' TO THE JEWETT 'TEAM' FROM YOUR PRESIDENT

This letter from your President will give you something of his interest and enthusiasm, dated March 27, 1992

First of all I feel very upbeat about the present state of the Jewett Family of America and I want you all to know why I feel this way.

My patient wife, Betty, whom most of you know, and I have just returned from a rather gruelling, but marvelous, trip to Arizona and parts of both Southern and Northern California. I say gruelling, because we were on a tight schedule of plane flights and rented cars to meet with our eight hosts and hostesses over a 16 day period. Our most southern stops were Green Valley, AZ and San Diego, CA and to the north we visited Bodega Bay and Santa Rosa, CA. We were entertained by a brother, first cousins, friends going back as far as 75 years, and last, but far from least, a score of newfound and delightful Jewett kinfolk. I (we?) had a ball! (See list attached, or direct from Boyd.)

I have called this a newsletter, because I hope it will be the forerunner of more to come. As soon at Ted Loranz is successful in getting the IRS to OK our non-profit status for gifts and mailing rates, Lee Jewett Petry stands ready to initiate such a communication for all our members. The need for a newsletter becomes more apparent as I make more contacts in person, by 'phone, and thru correspondence. I find that few know what others are doing. Keep working on the bureaucracy, Ted!

A few words about our four most active officers. V-P Ted Herrmann never lets up. I am continually getting copies of memos he sends to Ted Loranz and Jim Jewett as well as to Alicia Williams, on how to handle requests, checks, new member data, and checking on the "Roots III" and record collecting process. Treas. Jim Jewett is keeping good records of incoming monies and paying what bills we have. He is sending members of your Exec. Committee monthly reports, so we know where we stand. Up in Medway, Ted Loranz is keeping our roster and mailing list as current as possible on his computer. He is in regular touch with Edna Jewett in Rowley and has kindly relieved her of the responsibility of stocking and distributing the inventory of reprinted Histories, tiles, coats-of-arms, and stationery, etc. He has taken on the non-profit search on his own. Thank goodness, Edna's health has improved and she is an active part of the team again. By now she has probably completed copying all the original records which copies are forwarded to Alicia Williams in Hingham. Alicia who is our Genealogist was held up for a time by a previous commitment and the ill health of her father, but is now back on the Jewett Family job.

I will wind down with an explanation and plea for what I feel is a major part of our genealogy data gathering effort, i.e. the extension of our State by State and/or region by region organization, with key persons taking responsibility in each area. We have a good start and nearly everywhere I have made contacts the positive response has been excellent. BUT, if we have 10 such cells functioning, we have some 40 to go. I hesitate to name names, because I may leave someone out, but there are a few of you who are doing such good jobs that I want to mention your names, hoping that you may share your expertise with others who would be glad to serve, if they were helped in getting started. Among those already active outside of New England are:

Florida-George and Arno Jewett, Dorothy Brigham, and Sarah Jewett King
Maryland-Roland Jewett
Pennsylvania, north; New York, south central-Wm. Y. Nash
Ohio-Greg Jewett
Indiana-Michael Jewett
Illinois-Lee Jewett Petry
Iowa-Connie Jewett Cory
Kansas, Western Missouri-Cecelia McGeehee
Texas-Gleason Jewett
California-Boyd Jewett, chr., Ann Vogt, south; Richard Jewett, L.A. area.

So you see there are a lot of gaps. Who knows about the formerly active Mason, Mich. Jewetts? If you have ideas for people to fill the gaps, let me know. I will follow up on any suggestions.

Enough for now! I hope you see why I feel good about 'us'.

A.T. & T. always has a line open, and our friendly mail carrier loves to put 1st class mail in our box, instead of junk. Hope to hear from you!

LEE JEWETT PETRY, NEW HISTORIAN OF THE JEWETT FAMILY

Lee Jewett Petry

Lee Jewett Petry is an army brat who traveled extensively while growing up and continues to enjoy traveling with her husband, Richard.

She graduated from Miami University (Oxford, Ohio) in 1957 with a major in mathematics and is currently working as laboratory manager for a firm specializing in concrete failures. However, she is looking forward to retiring early next year.

Her major interests are history (particularly the Civil War) genealogy, reading, and quilting.

As part of her interest in the Civil War, she has been researching the records of Jewetts who served in that conflict. She has found about 400 Jewetts who served in state volunteer regiments or federal units and has acquired the National Archives records for over 200 of these soldiers.

Lee and her husband live in Northbrook, Illinois, which is a far northern suburb of Chicago. They are the parents of two sons, Michael and Charles, and

Remember my son, Jennie Fuller pleads

This story of a mother's gripping tale of the first Americans to die in Castro's Cuba was sent by Sarah Jewett King, another member of the "Cuban Jewetts".

By MARY VOBORIL
Herald Staff Writer

Things were moving fast: In less than four hours a Cuban military tribunal had tried, convicted and sentenced Bobby Fuller to death, all before the eyes of his horror-stricken mother. In minutes, young Fuller, 25, would be driven off to San Juan Hill and a firing squad for taking part in a botched invasion of Oriente Province.

Mother and son met for the final time in a shadowy room in a Santiago jail. It was October 1960. He was calm. She was sobbing. Fuller asked for pencil and paper and scribbled out a farewell note to his father.

"Pop, I did my best," Fuller wrote. "By the time you get this, everything will be over . . . Don't take up drinking. Keep the others calm. I love you forever."

Time was short. Fuller handed his mother the note. "Don't cry," he said. He told her he wanted to be buried beside his grandparents and little brother in Holguín, then embraced her with his final words: "You've been a good mother. Don't cry."

The visit over, she was standing by the jail entrance as a heavy army car rumbled past. Her son was inside. Their eyes met. Bobby Fuller leaned forward and gave his mother a small salute.

Jennie Fuller left Cuba the next day, never to return. In years to come she would tell Lynita Fuller, then 6, that her daddy had been one of the first Americans to die in defense of a free Cuba.

Which is why Lynita, now 36 and a loan officer at a Miami bank, had a few questions the other day when she read a newspaper story that claimed another man, Howard F. Anderson, had been "the first American executed by the Castro regime." The Miami Herald story also said that, by city edict, a half-mile stretch of 55th Avenue Road would henceforth carry the name "Howard F. Anderson Way."

"Grandma," said the puzzled Lynita, "I thought you always told me Daddy was the first American executed."

"Well, he was the first Cuban-born American," Fuller replied. "Tony Zarba was the first American." Fuller brooded a few minutes. "I'm going to write that newspaper," she said, and did just that. Her four-page letter is handwritten and sternly worded.

"Get things straight," she said. "Check your 1960 newspapers.

"I want every Cuban, every American in Miami to remember and never forget the three boys who gave their lives to free Cuba."

Tony Zarba, 28, died before a bullet-pocked prison wall in October 1960, and a few days later so did Bobby Fuller and Allen Dale Thompson, 30, a soldier of fortune from Texas. A fourth man, Maj. William Morgan of Toledo, Ohio, was shot for espionage in March 1961. Morgan had forfeited U.S. citizenship to fight in Castro's rebel army, however. Howard F. Anderson died in April 1961.

JENNIE FULLER

BOBBY FULLER

'Some Cubans remember'

"People don't remember," sighs Fuller's mother, sitting in the sunny Florida room of a Little Havana home that has been in the family since 1940. Now 90 and a widow, Fuller lives with her daughter Frances, a black cocker spaniel named Baby and two parrots.

Her blue eyes flood with tears as she reminisces about her slain son and the fact that, in some quarters, his name has been forgotten or at least overlooked.

"But some Cubans remember," admits Fuller. "Every once in awhile Radio Mambi calls me to go on." And every now and then there is talk of installing a plaque somewhere that would forever commemorate her son and the pre-Bay of Pigs expedition that cost him his life.

But so far, that's all there's been: talk. "People have had Masses said for him, but that's about it," said Bobby's sister Jeannette Hausler, dean of students at the University of Miami Law School. "There's been no other memorial I know of."

Most of the time, Jennie Fuller at 90 seems as sharp as the machete she wields against the weeds in the back of her Little Havana home. Her hearing is intact, her step brisk. Her time-seamed face opens into a wide smile as she reveals her secret of longevity: "raw onions. Eat one every day."

There in the Florida room, surrounded by saffron-colored news clippings, Jennie Fuller fingers old black-and-white photographs: Bobby as an angel-faced little boy, blond hair curling down the collar of his spotless white sailor suit. Bobby at summer camp. Bobby in a family portrait from the early 1940s, though William Fuller, his father and hero, is absent.

Inflamed with patriotism, William Fuller had volunteered for World War II despite seven kids and the family's thriving timber, sugar and cattle businesses in Cuba.

Deep island roots

The family's Cuban roots go back to 1903, when Jennie Fuller's father Albin Jewett, a cousin to writer Sarah Orne Jewett, moved to the island. Jennie was 2 years old. By the time of the Castro takeover, her brother and her husband were at the helm and the Jewett family holdings totaled 6,600 acres.

Though all were Americans, the seven Fuller kids were born in Cuba. The family moved to Miami during the war and shuttled back and forth.

Predictably, William and Bobby Fuller were enraged when Castro seized the family's land and nationalized their businesses. They were further infuriated that the rallying cry was "Yanqui, go home!" After all, their family had settled in Cuba at the turn of the century.

Jewell Moncada, an Orlando teacher and Fuller family friend, is writing a book about the events that led to Bobby's death. The Fullers, she confirms, "were a wealthy family who lost everything to Castro." Bobby, an ex-Marine, Korea veteran and eldest son, dreamed of wresting everything back.

Even so, Moncada remembers him as soft-spoken and a natty dresser, "not the sort of person you'd think would lead an invasion."

Bobby's sister Jeannette suspects the motivation may have come from the father. "I for one believe that my father was entirely capable of saying, 'Go fight for what is yours.' "

William Fuller had been warned to stay away from Cuba, where he was wanted for crimes against Castro. But he had planned to sneak in anyway, at his son's side. He was 57, however, and suffered from heart problems. The small band left him behind in Miami.

Meant to recruit, not fight

The invading force was made up of four Americans and 23 Cubans who boarded two vessels, one a PT boat, off the coast of Florida and set out for Cuba. "It wasn't really an invasion force but an organizing force, a nucleus," William Fuller said during Bobby's wake in Miami. "They were supposed to recruit others to fight against Castro."

But within a week, someone tipped off the Cuban militia. Bobby was captured in the Sierra Maestra mountains as he fled to the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay.

"One more day, we would have made it," he told his mother.

Although Cuba had grown too dangerous for her husband, Jennie Fuller had remained in Holguín to look after what was left of the family business. She was coordinating plans to plant sugar cane when she was told of a radio broadcast. An American named Robert Fuller, the radio said, would go on trial that day in Santiago, 120 miles distant.

"I said, 'How can that be? He's in Miami,' " Fuller recalls.

But she hired a car, pulled up to the packed-to-overflowing courthouse and was led to a seat off to the side. Spectators disrupted the unruly proceedings with shouts of "¡Paredón! ¡Paredón!" or "To the wall! To the wall!" The firing squad.

'They won't shoot your son'

Remembers Fuller: "I stood up and stretched out my arms to a group of Cuban women nearest me and said, 'Please don't, please don't . . . One of those boys over there is my son!'

"They all looked at me, and a woman called back: 'Don't worry, lady. They won't shoot your son. They're only going to shoot the Americans.'

"You see, they thought I was Cuban."

Bobby Fuller's lawyer had defended Castro in his early revolutionary days, but the connection did no good. His defense was disintegrating. Jennie Fuller rose. Voice calm, she asked the five uniformed army judges for permission to speak. Her request was denied. So were her pleas for clemency. A compassionate guard allowed her to see her son just before his trip to San Juan Hill.

Thompson, the Texas soldier of fortune, was executed at Fuller's side. Thompson was described in 1960 news accounts as a down-on his-luck fisherman.

In a television broadcast, Castro justified such harsh revolutionary justice by quoting the New Testament: "He who lives by the sword will die by the sword."

Editorialized The Herald: "It seems pretty clear these men meant to live by the sword but were so pathetically unprepared to do so that a truly strong government could easily have allowed them to live."

A bungled mission

It wasn't the first time Bobby Fuller and Zarba had bungled a mission. In July 1959, they were arrested on a flare-lit Key Largo airstrip while loading a single-engine Piper Comanche with carbines, rifles and ammunition.

They were convicted of conspiring to air-drop the weapons to anti-Castro Cubans, but a federal judge set aside the verdict. The government, the judge ruled, never proved the men had no license to ship arms to Cuba.

Zarba had been kept out of the American military by an asthma condition. When he went to Cuba on the PT boat, he left a letter "to be opened in case I don't return." It being the era of Sputnik and the so-called Red Menace, his letter is freighted with Cold War ideology; he laments that the United States was "daily insulted and abused by the Commies of Cuba.

"I am going to do my duty regardless of any foolish considerations about legality, neutrality and other technicalities of which the diabolic Communist takes so much advantage," Zarba wrote.

"I have confidence that God would give me the necessary strength and courage to die with honor and pride in the hills or in the front of a Red firing squad."

William Fuller figured Bobby would be safe. Castro's rebels, he assured his daughter Jeannette, would never dare kill an American.

Crushed by son's death

Shortly after his son's execution, William Fuller held a wake at the Miami home. The centerpiece was a homemade wooden cross. Atop the cross was Bobby's Marine Corps hat. "There'll be other expeditions," Fuller said. "Some may fail, but sooner or later we expect the Castro regime will fall." So crushed was he by his son's death that he spent the next six months in Washington, "just to get away," says Jeannette Hausler. Once back in Miami he turned to teaching English to refugees, though he had a Harvard background and a law degree. He died in 1969.

In their final meeting in the dark Cuban jail, Jennie Fuller hugged her son and asked a simple question.

"Bobby," she said, "why did you have to do this?"

"This was something I had to do," he replied. "I'm proud to die before a Communist firing squad. If my death is going to help the cause, I'll give my life gladly.

"Just be glad that Pop didn't come, too."

AND THEN WE HAD HURRICANE ANDREW!!!!!

An Account by Sarah Jewett King

Hurricane Andrew hit South Dade with great fury. . .winds at 145 mph and gusts at 175 mph. We, those of us, that live in the South Broward and North Dade area were to be on a direct hit, had prepared, by boarding up our homes, but, the hurricane changed its course and went smack through South Dade. (The destruction would have been greater had it stayed on its first course, as the population in South Broward and North Dade is much greater than in South Dade)

Most of our Jewett family lives in South Dade, and they suffered much damage; Freddy Fuller, Douglas Jewett, Carolina (Fuller) Michelena, Jean (Fuller) Hausler and Helen (Jewett) Trujillo suffered heavy damage to their home roof.

Sebastian and Helen (Jewett) Trujillo also lost their Interior Decorators business.

Bonnie (Jewett) Camacho was not able to get into her home at Key Biscayne for more than a week; her home was inundated with water up to her waist, she and her husband Cesar had to replace all their tile floor.

We thank the Lord for sparing their lives.

At our home in Pembroke Pines the only thing we lost was a lime tree in our back yard and a bottle brush tree in the front yard. John and I had only one week to clean up. . .a tiresome job. . .cutting and bagging. . .and then we were off to Spain. I belong to the Llardro Collectors Society, and had booked a tour with them to Madrid, Toledo, Cuenca and Valencia where we were guests of the Lladro brothers and where we visited their porcelain factory. I was the lucky winner of a porcelain figure at the farewell dinner!!!. It is a retired piece!!!. We were in Spain nine days.

We had been home only a couple of days. . .fighting jet lag. . .when we received a delightful telephone call from Dorothy Brigham Jewett, she lives in Port Charlote; she was in Miami at a Quilt show. We met Dorothy and her husband Ronald at the hotel where they were and we had lunch together.

Dorothy is so talented!!! her quilts are beautiful!!! We had a great time together, they promised to visit us when they come back from Massachusetts. She is the daughter of Edna Jewett. I felt like I had known her for a long time.

IN ALL AND ALL THE LORD HAS PROTECTED OUR FAMILY. . .WE JEWETTS ARE SURVIVORS!!!. . . Last year our sister Antonia Jewett Trueba was in an earth quake that struck their farm in Matina, Costa Rica; she was trapped in the house, but, blessed be the Lord, she was rescued by her son Fernando and workers in the farm.

Un Abrazo grande para todos los Jewetts. . .a great big hug for all the Jewetts!!!!

ABOUT THE PROPOSED JEWETT DIRECTORY

At the Board Meeting of the Jewett Family of America in September, 1992, Ted Hermann proposed that a Jewett Family of America Directory be printed and distributed to members of The Family.

Following is Ted's commentary on why he feels this should be done. Ted Hermann, first Vice-President;

The reasons for providing you with this JEWETT DIRECTORY of LIVING MEMBERS are three-fold:

1. To develop a natural synergism and inter-action that will spring from members who are better informed. This directory will help achieve that end.
2. To seek corrected addresses and telephone numbers so that the 1993-94 JEWETT DIRECTORY will be more accurate and complete. This will also provide parents and grandparents with a ready-made list of children and grandchildren who are members. Perhaps more importantly -- it provides a list (by omission) of those who are NOT members.

   Hopefully, this knowlege will trigger "Gift Memberships" from the older generation to their decendants. A Gift Membership will provide an inexpensive yet meaningful birthday gift for a loved one!
3. To assist members to reach and influence their kinsmen to provide support for the publication of VOLUME III, THE JEWETTS OF AMERICA, in 1993. Example: Two or three cousins. . . or siblings. . .can get together and send a check for $100 (or $1,000) in memoriam to a loved one. The timing of this publication and the cost has not been determined.
